Miners Returning to Work After Revoking Strike and Agreeing to New Conference

COAL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Some Miners Dispute Authority of Order Issued by Acting President Lewis

Original Demands Will be Presented to Operators at Friday's Session

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—Original demands of a 60 per cent increase in wages, a six hour day and a five day week, will be presented to operators by mine workers in the joint scale conference called for Friday in Washington at the instance of Secretary of Labor Wilson, according to Frank Farrington, chairman of the miners' scale committee, who came here today, en route to the national capital.

Returning to Work
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Resumption of work in the country's bituminous coal mines today was expected to be extensive but not on a scale that would permit anything like normal production, according to statements of United Mine Workers of America leaders and coal mine operators. COMING TO ST. COLUMBA'S CHURCH

Rev. James M. Somers has been assigned to St. Columba's church, this city, as curate to succeed Rev. Francis McNeill, who has been transferred to Bridgewater. Rev. Fr. Somers comes to Lowell from St. Clement's church, West Somerville. He has been ordained about three years and his home is in Haverhill. Rev. Fr. Somers will take up his new duties assistant to Rev. Patrick J. Hally, pastor of St. Columba's, immediately.

PRINTING TAX BOOKS
The office of the board of assessors at city hall has been besieged during the last few weeks with requests as to when this year's tax books will be available. The books are now in the hands of the printers, but the assessors say that it is doubtful if they will be ready for distribution before December 1. As soon as they are available the public will be notified.

A disabled auto truck at Bridge and First streets delayed the early Lowell-Lawrence cars fully half an hour this morning. The wrecking crew of the street car company finally removed the machine and opened the traffic lanes.

NO DISAPPOINTMENT LURKS WITHIN THIS CAN

Gredag has been adopted as standard lubrication by more than 30 manufacturers of automobiles, trucks and tractors. It is recommended by them as the most perfect lubricant. Gredag in the transmission and differential of an automobile run over 12,000 miles was found just as good as at the beginning of the trip.

Gredag contains 99.9 per cent pure Acheson-Graphite. It does not contain a single particle of ground rock or grit. It clings to bearings and gears. Quits noisy gears. Kills friction. Prevents heat. Reduces wear.

Gredag is adaptable for gears, cups, wheel hubs, universal joints, pumps, steering worms, chains, starters, magnetos, ball bearings and other parts.

Cannot Enforce War Time Dry Act; Sell 4 Per Cent Beer in Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—Judge Arthur L. Brown in the United States district court here today, issued a temporary injunction against Harvey A. Baker, United States attorney and George F. O'Shaughnessy, collector of internal revenue, restraining them from enforcing the provisions of the war-time prohibition act. The injunction was issued upon the petition of the Narragansett Brewing Co. The sale of four per cent beer was immediately resumed by Providence liquor dealers.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL HAS ROUTINE SESSION

The municipal council held a routine session this morning that lasted less than half an hour. Various minor petitions were acted upon and the members then adjourned until one week from today at 10 a. m. The meeting was called at 10:05. Commissioner Morse was absent. A hearing was held on the petition of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company for permission to erect two poles in Fort Hill avenue, between Andover street and 11 Fort Hill avenue. George Richards and others opposed the erection of poles on the front of the street, but said that the property owners did not object to having the poles in the rear of their lots. The matter was referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand.

The petition of the Lowell Electric Light corporation for permission to erect one pole in Shaw street between Warwick and South Walker streets was heard and the matter referred to Commissioners Murphy and Marchand.

George H. Neville was granted permission to move a building in Chelmsford street. The Nemeck Specialty company petitioned for license for a garage in Hovey avenue, and a hearing was set for December 2. Mary E. Carleton entered a claim Continued to Last Page

TAKES DRASTIC ACTION

Street Railway Co. Will Cease Operation in Law- rence Unless Jitneys Go

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, through its publicity agent, Fred Cummings, today served notice upon Mayor Hurley of the neighboring city of Lawrence that unless all jitneys are withdrawn from the streets of that city on or before November 26, the street car company will discontinue all city lines and probably all suburban lines running into the city proper.

Whether or not this would affect the Lowell-Lawrence line is not known, but in case the ultimatum was sweeping enough to include all suburban lines, the trolley traffic between the two cities would be among the ones to be abandoned. Eastern Massachusetts officials said this morning that the notice has been served because of the failure of the city of Lawrence to properly regulate its jitney traffic. It is said that a $2 license fee is the only bond required from a man who wishes to carry passengers within the city limits. Lawrence did not receive a reduction in fare accorded to other cities a few weeks ago and company officers say that the loose jitney ordinance was the reason.

No such ultimatum could be given to Lowell because $5000 the bond required in the jitney ordinance has kept the streets of this city free of such vehicles for several years.

In North Chelmsford, however, a similar condition to that in Lawrence exists. Notice has been served upon that town that unless it properly regulates its jitneys, car service between the North Village and Tyngsboro will be abandoned and possibly the town will be cut off altogether as the company has intended that it will run cars only to the city line. A special town meeting will be held in Chelmsford soon to take action on the question.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Chapter Still Climbing— Workers Are Jubilant

The Red Cross roll call total for North Middlesex Chapter still climbing—Workers are jubilant. The Red Cross roll call total for North Middlesex chapter already has rolled up to 27,000 and will climb several hundred more before the final returns are in. At the closing meeting of the drive at St. Anne's parish house Monday evening a total membership of 25,459 was reported, but this did not include the towns of Carlisle, Lincoln and Stoneham. The last named community has sent in a report of better than 1500 names, which makes the chapter total approximately 27,000. Additional memberships in small lots continue to come in at chapter headquarters in Merrimack st. and it may be several days before all the money which may be traced directly to the canvass of workers is received.

North Middlesex chapter had a war time organization of 47,000 members and at the outset of the roll call just completed, national headquarters in assigning Lowell's quota, felt that a result which would total 50 per cent. of the former strength would be most gratifying. Not only has the chapter obtained one-half of its former membership but at present is just a fraction below 55 per cent. of its war time enrollment. Local officers call it "a splendid accomplishment" and far greater than their most optimistic hopes would allow them to anticipate.

Boiled down to facts, the roll call workers rallied to the cause wonderfully well and the people of Lowell and the district towns again stepped forward and supported a worthy cause. Much of the credit for the success of the drive here is due to Paul B. Chandler, chairman of the campaign committee, who worked tirelessly for a big total and had the fine satisfaction of seeing his efforts rewarded. He had real workers gathered around him, divided into canvassing teams and the result shows that there was no shrinking and no lack of response from the generous public.

As in past drives the industrial plants strongly rallied to the call and many 100 per cent. records were made. Stores and bodies of employees, such as the police and firemen, also enlisted in full strength. The Merrimack Mfg. Co. led the mills with 1225 members. The Bay State Cotton corporation made a gift of $1000 and in addition to memberships turned in E. S. Hylan contributed $25. Many more special gifts were made during the campaign. The chapter workers do not want it understood that membership in the Red Cross for 1920 is restricted to the days of the roll call. The headquarters at 81 Merrimack street are open daily for any service which may be rendered and also for the receipt of new members. The organization cannot become too large or unwieldy and there is no limit to the enrollment.

Four Ex-Soldiers Killed and I. W. W. Secretary Hanged at Centralia, Wash.

MANSLAUGHTER CASES IN POLICE COURT

On the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of four-year-old Dorothy Lyon of West Andover, who was fatally injured by an automobile in Merrimack square, October 7, Perley D. Smith of Methuen, alleged by the police to be the driver of the car which killed the girl, was arraigned on continuance in police court today and a further continuance ordered until December 10 to await the result of the inquest now being held on the accident. Smith has pleaded not guilty and furnished bail of $7000.

Another manslaughter case scheduled to be called today was continued until November 25, the inquest report not being completed. This is the case against Charles L. Bond, of Boston, the Harvard student who is alleged to have been the driver of the auto which struck and fatally injured Joseph Zanoni, 43 North street, as the boy was crossing over Lawrence street on the afternoon of October 13. He has also furnished bail.

CHURCH WELCOMES HER SERVICE MEN

With a bountiful supper, enjoyable entertainment features, and speeches by several members of the congregation, the First Presbyterian church formally welcomed home her fighting sons last evening. Demobilization of the service flag of the church also took place during the evening. Among the speakers who paid a fitting tribute to the boys who returned and the two, Frank MacVeatie and Robert Muir, who are sleeping "over there," were Elmer D. Russell, chairman of the national service committee of the church, H. M. Sutherland, secretary of the organization; Rev. J. M. Craig, Rev. J. E. Kennedy, Corp. John Brown, Corp. William M. Thompson, Lieut. David F. Caddell and John B. Caddell.

The names of the members of the First Presbyterian church who were in the allied service are as follows: Frank MacVeatie, Robert Muir, John M. Brown, James Blakely, William Clarke, David F. Caddell, James Campbell, Arthur B. Chadwick, Alex. Greig, Finlay Gray, George J. Love, John C. Leggat, Matthew Hammond, William Caddell, David Scott Mack, John D. Hudson, John MacIntyre, James Muir, John Nickols, Adam M. Shields, Robert Scott, William M. Thompson, Hugh L. Wier, Archie Kirkpatrick, Clifton Rockwell, Alexander Shanks, Thompson Farrell, Chester A. Young, Archie MacIntyre, Jr., John Gray, Robert Caddell and Chester B. Robinson.

DANCING PARTY

The Laurels will conduct a dancing party at the Vesper boathouse tonight. A well arranged program of dance features will be introduced and music will be furnished by Campbell's orchestra. The managers expect a large number to attend and plan to make the event one of the most enjoyable of the season.

HELD ARMISTICE DAY SERVICES

Armistice day services were held last evening by the Lowell "Sallies." An open air mass meeting at Jackson and Central streets, which attracted a large crowd, was followed by a rousing service in the army hall on Jackson street at which Adjutant Klepsig made a spirited plea for Americanism. Other speakers included Deputy Bandmaster Edward Rowe, whose son gave his life for democracy during the great conflict, and several ex-service men. Adjutant Klepsig has issued an appeal to the people of Lowell for contributions of used clothing, shoes and other articles for which they have no immediate use but which will prove of worth to the many needy ones who are daily helped by the local organization. A phone call to the adjutant will bring some one to take the articles donated.

$250 BONUS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

As the result of an agreement drawn by Richard Brabrook Walsh, chairman of the school committee, and officials of the state board of education, now awaiting the formal approval of the state board as a whole, all teachers in the Bartlett and Lexington avenue schools which are used by the state as practice schools, will receive a bonus of $250 a year. The principals of these schools will receive a bonus of $500 per year. The bonus of $250 also applies to the kindergarten teachers. If this agreement is approved by the state board, the teachers in these schools will receive more pay than those of the other elementary schools of the city. The agreement referred to also provides for the doing away of the New Moody school as a state training school.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 12.—State troops today patrolled this city where during an armistice day celebration yesterday, four members of the American Legion were shot and killed by men said to be members of the I. W. W. and Britt Smith, secretary of the local branch of the Industrial Workers of America, was hanged by a mob. The reason for the attack which came as the head of the legion parade swung past I. W. W. headquarters, had not been developed fully, but the authorities said evidence had been obtained that it was premeditated. Without warning bursts of rifle fire swept the ranks of marching veterans as they paraded past I. W. W. headquarters. Bullets came from that building and the roof of a building across the street. Persons in the crowds that lined the street also drew weapons and began firing. Ex-Soldiers Shot Down Warren Grimm, leading a company Continued to Page Five

HOME WELCOME TO SERVICE MEN

A delightful welcome home celebration to its former service men was staged by Lowell herd, No. 19, Benevolent Order of Buffalo, at its quarters in Old Fellows building, Middlesex st., Monday evening. Entertainment numbers were given by James E. Hughes and President William H. Garvey, and the speakers included John J. Gilbride, John K. Kenney, chairman of the welcome home committee, President Garvey, Past Deputy James E. Lyle, and Past Secretary James E. Lyle. During the evening the service flag of the organization was demobilized with special exercises under the direction of Robert M. Dempsey. Refreshments were served.

The service members of the order are John Broadhurst, Joseph Duval, Louis Kalofel, James Thomas, William H. Hogan, Edward Preston, John J. McGlinchey, George H. Brown, Peter Gill and John Kenney.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE.

"A Man's Job," a thrilling melodrama of the days just prior to the signing of the armistice, while all the country joins in celebrating this week, is the offering of the popular Lowell Playhouse at the Opera House this week. The author of the play is none other than John Mehan, leading man of the Lowell company, who has written several stage successes, and if one is to judge from the applause which was awarded it during the initial performance, this production is due for a most successful week.

THE BOVININE CO., 75 W. Broadway, New York

Although essentially a play of the war, the action takes place wholly in the United States. A member of the government war-time secret service, a German agent, and the principal characters, and the Hun leads the American, a merry chase throughout the three acts. And although the hero and the villain make the leading discovery that they are brothers, and both in love with the same girl, the battle of wills goes on just the same.

The German agent is a rather cold-blooded sort of fellow, too. One of his employees tells him that he is getting "cold feet" and wants to quit the job. Promptly Mr. Villain gives his faithful co-worker in the service of all the All Highest a glass of wine containing just the right amount of poison, touches a hidden spring in the wall, and the employee disappears.

John Mehan is cast in the leading role, that of the soldier-of-fortune who decides to help Uncle Sam clean the country of German propaganda and his clever and intelligent treatment of the part meets with hearty approval.

William Melville, as the Kaiser's representative, is seen in one of the best parts in which he has appeared this season, and gives a most satisfactory "bad man." Hal Crane, the juvenile man, is also seen to advantage.

Miss Margaret Field, the popular leading woman, who of course plays the part of "the only girl," also added even more friends by her capable and happy treatment of her role, and production of "A Man's Job" deserves a special word of commendation. Rarely have Lowell theatregoers been treated to such splendid scenic effects and, these were fully appreciated by those who attended the theatre during the first performance.

Others who are appearing in the play are Charles H. Stevens, Miss Helen Freeburn, Jack Howell, Bartle Dineen, Arthur Black, Jack Kennedy and Director J. Francis Kirk.

THE STRAND THEATRE

Two excellent photoplays, "The Dragon Painter" and "Please Get Married," head the bill at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. The former is a love story, while the latter is a melodrama of high merit. In "The Dragon Painter" is featured Sessue Hayakawa in the title role, while in the other the leading part is being sustained by Viola Dana.

"The Dragon Painter" deals with a wild mountain artist who dreams of some day meeting his "Dragon Princess." The scenes of the story are in the land of the rising sun and the theme based on a beautiful legend of old Japan. The dragon painter lives the primitive life of a wild mountain youth in whose heart burns the mad love of genius. In his imagination he conceives only perfect happiness when he shall have found his "Dragon Princess," the full realization of his ideal. At length he finds his way into the house of Kuno, the last of the famous line of famous dragon painters, who conceives the idea of having his daughter impersonate the "Dragon Princess." In order that the genius of the youth may be stimulated and so perpetuate the flame and art of his family. After the marriage the girl finds that the young artist is neglecting his painting because of his thought to please her and leaves him that he may dedicate his

"Please Get Married" has to do with a pair of adoring and extremely youthful lovers who embark on a honeymoon in blissful content, while their parents have learned that perhaps they may not have been married at all. The parents set out to overtake them, but the couple reach a mountain hotel ahead of their elders and prepare for the honeymoon they have waited so long for, when they are the victims of a series of interruptions that are as disconcerting to them as they are mirth-provoking. The play is one of the most enjoyable of its kind presented locally in a long time. The new Vitaphone comedy is also a clever production, while the Universal Weekly shows views of current events that are both instructive and interesting. The musical numbers are also very enjoyable.

The Way for a Woman With Work to Do

In order to meet the new and added demands, she must care for her body as never before. She must see that food nourishes and that her digestion is good: that her liver and kidneys act properly and that her blood and nerves are kept normal. Nature must have ability to respond to the unusual demands.

By Using

Beecham's Pills

every organ will be helped to do its work normally and healthily. Woman has peculiar ills but only requires to be kept normal. Beecham's Pills by acting on the digestion and liver enable strength and vigor to be supplied to all of the organs—by so doing Beecham's Pills purify the blood, strengthen the nerves, give the clear eye and brain. They sweeten the breath and tint the skin with the glow of health. Women only need nourishing food and organs that function properly to give her physical and mental ability to cope with any situation. Any woman using Beecham's Pills will find

SHOE SHOP OPERATIVES RETURN TO WORK

After being on strike for 16 weeks, the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union employed at the plants of the Federal Shoe Co., the L. H. Spaulding Shoe Co., the John Pilling Co., and the Foster Shoe Co. returned to work this morning. This action was taken at a special meeting of the union held last evening and at which the strikers almost unanimously voted to return to work, after being so advised by their counsel, D. J. Donahue.

While the meeting was being held Mr. Donahue and Edward J. Tierney, counsel for the manufacturers, held a conference and satisfactory arrangements were made for the re-employment of all the union men without discrimination. Later when the matter was presented at the meeting of the union the vote to return to work this morning was taken.

The shoe workers' strike is the longest shoe strike that has ever taken place in this city. It was started 16 weeks ago when the demand of the members of the Allied Shoe Workers' union for recognition of the union and a small increase in wages was refused. As a result of picketing, court proceedings resulted, and later two of three of the strikers were brought before the court on charges of assault and battery and threatening. With the exception of the Federal Shoe Co. all the other shops were forced to close their doors because of lack of help.

In speaking for the union last evening Mr. Donahue said the vote to go back to work was taken largely because of the industrial unrest all over the country today. He said it would be for the best interest of the shoe manufacturers and employees that they get together on common ground before the lack of production is too keenly felt and that if the agreements specified by counsel for the employers were lived up to and no discrimination shown he would willingly say the strike would soon be forgotten in Lowell.

STRANGE CASE
LITTLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP AS HOPELESS

LAWRENCE, May 24.—The strange case of Joseph Little of this city is causing no end of talk. Today he weighs 175 lbs., while in November his weight was 91. At that time Little's friends gave him up, believing him to be in the last stages of consumption.

For some months Little was an inmate of the Cottage hospital. While there Supt. James J. Stanley took an especial interest in this case. And a strange feature of the case is that the case of the hospital prepared and administered to him a concoction, now known as Sister Mary's Compound. With good care Little improved and in a few months was able to leave the hospital a "new man." Little entered the hospital suffering with a stomach trouble and a bad cough. Consumption was his disease, so it was thought. He was even sent to Colorado. Soon after he returned seemingly no better. However, he was taken by Supt. Stanley and given a berth at the local hospital. His nurse there well cared for him as Mr. Stanley can testify. Today Little's friends do not know him he is so changed. The Lawrence Institution has had many peculiar cases, but the transforming of Little, a helpless physical wreck, to Little a well and strong man, is the most remarkable in local medical history. (Extract from the Boston Record, March 24, 1906).

July 7, 1919.

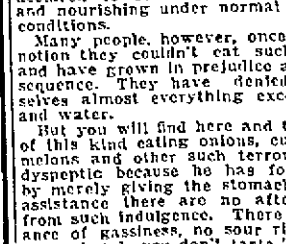

502 Main St., St. John's, Mass.

I received the bottle of Sister Mary's Compound and it helped me wonderfully. I checked that awful pain in my stomach and bowels. I am very well and have been back on the train. It surely was a God Send to get relief.

I am very truly yours,

C. A. RICKETT,
B. & M. R. Conductor.

Letters received from all parts of the country testify to the wonderful results received from Sister Mary's Compound. Copies of these will be sent on request.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS
TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its beguiling hollow and abrupt angles, being enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION.—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.—Adv.

DEATHS

GREGG.—Mrs. Rachel E. Gregg, widow of James W. Gregg, died suddenly yesterday morning at her home, 21 Durant street, at the age of 43 years, 7 months and 18 days. She is survived by two sons, George W. and Charles J. Gregg of this city; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Emsley of East Dedham; one brother, George W. Emsley; three sisters, Mrs. William Hoare, Mrs. Albert Pantano, Mrs. Albert Nebbes, all of this city. Mrs. Gregg was affiliated with Victoria lodge, I.O.O.F. Ladies' Manchester Union, being its present secretary and past noble grand. She was the present treasurer of the district grand lodge and a past provincial grand lady of the Massachusetts district, I.O.O.F., M.U.

CALLAHAN.—Thomas Callahan for many years a resident of this city, died yesterday afternoon, aged 72 years. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

GANNON.—Mary Gannon, aged 55 years, died last night at her home, 129 Cross street. She leaves a son, Patrick and a daughter, Fannie Gannon.

COLLINS.—Miss Margaret A. Collins, a highly esteemed member of St. Margaret's church, died Nov. 8 at the home of her mother, Mrs. Abbie Collins at Hudson, Mass. She leaves besides her mother, five sisters, Mrs. T. Barry and Mrs. J. L. Mann, both of Marshfield, Mass.; two brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Collins of Woburn, and the Misses Lavinia and Esther Collins of Hudson; three brothers, William and Frank of Marlboro and Joseph Collins of Lowell.

CORBIN.—Mrs. Susan Frances Corbin, wife of Frank Corbin of 511 School street, died Monday at Reading, where she had suffered a paralytic stroke at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, on Friday last. She left Lowell Friday morning en route for Nahant, where she was to spend Armistice day with her brothers and sister, Mr. Corbin is expected to join them on Sunday. Mrs. Corbin was born at the Whitney homestead, Nahant, April 13, 1845, being a daughter of Albert Whitney, proprietor of one of the oldest and best known summer hotels on the North Shore. Her mother died a few days after her birth and she was legally adopted by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney, who were her foster parents. She was educated in the schools of Nahant, at the Salem Normal school and Coburn academy, New London, N. H., at which institution she met her future husband. She was married from the town church, Nahant, Oct. 6, 1863. Mr. and Mrs. Corbin began their married life at Nahant, N. H., removing two years later to Lowell, where they have since lived. They very happily celebrated their golden wedding in October last. Deceased was a member of the Middlesex Women's club. Surviving Mrs. Corbin are her husband; two children, Frederick W. Corbin of Cambridge and Lowell and Mrs. George B. Allen of Augusta, Me.; five grandchildren, Selena Varum Coburn, Frederick Denton Coburn, Dorothy Coburn, George B. Allen, Jr. and Elizabeth Allen; two brothers, William Whitney and Benjamin C. Whitney, and a sister, Mrs. Alice Whitney McIntosh, all of Nahant.

MARSHALL.—Frederick Marshall died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Campbell, 53 Keene street, after a long illness. He leaves besides his daughter, four sons, Joseph, Fred, Albert and Warren; one brother, George W. Marshall and one sister, Mrs. McGregor of Westford.

MOREY.—Mrs. Mary B. Morey, wife of the late Charles W. Morey, for many years principal of the grammar school in the Highlands which now bears his name, died yesterday at her home, 14 Belmont street, at the age of 60 years. Even to her intimate friends her death will come as a distinct shock, for although she has been out of doors but little of late, it was not known that her physical condition was so low. She leaves two children, Helen, wife of Warren C. Shaw of Hanover, N. H., professor at Dartmouth college, and ter, Mrs. Alice Whitney McIntosh, all of Nahant.

CANDIDATES OUT IN FULL FORCE

Candidates for mayor and commissioner were out in full force last evening and were heard in all parts of the city. Because of the fact that it was his first appearance since the campaign speaking tournament opened, Jackson Palmer held the centre of the stage. He talked to a gathering of more than 1000 people at Tower's corner and raised the following issues, speaking from the viewpoint of the man who owns a small home worth two or three thousand dollars and covered by an ample mortgage; the father of one or two children, and perhaps the owner of a small car.

He said the first issue is the health, upbuilding and education of the children. The second the family finances, the third the safety and protection of the home, and the fourth the condition of the streets as viewed by the owner of a Ford.

In view of these observations, Mr. Palmer said he would confine himself to the department of health and

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid argon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications, will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

the miners were expected to dispute the authority of the order issued yesterday by John L. Lewis, acting president of the organization, recalling the strike order in keeping with the direction of a federal court order. The statement of Duncan McDonald, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, that "if the position of the government is to be taken as a precedent, there is no such thing as freedom of contract and the entire issue might as well be fought out now," was interpreted as being the sentiment of a portion of the approximately 425,000 men who went on strike nearly two weeks ago.

It was agreed that many of the miners would return to work, notably in the Alabama, Texas, Ohio and Pennsylvania coal areas. The situation was doubtful in Iowa, Maryland, West Virginia, Indiana, Oklahoma, Illinois and Arkansas.

Headaches Left Her When Blood Became Enriched

Connecticut Resident Testifies to the Benefit She Received From Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There are many kinds of headaches from different causes. If your headache is accompanied by a feeling of weakness, stomach trouble, exhaustion after slight effort, nervousness and dizzy and fainting spells, it is evident that your blood is thin and that you are in need of the tonic which proved so beneficial to Mrs. E. A. Webber, of No. 4 Durham avenue, Middletown, Conn. She says:

"I was generally tired and had no ambition, my blood was thin and I was badly run down. My strength seemed to leave me and at times I thought my heart was affected. I had headaches and lost flesh.

"I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but had never tried them until some friends of mine in Maine, who had been benefited by the pills, recommended them to me. After the first box I began to feel like myself again and gained rapidly in strength. I took another box and the benefit continued. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a fine blood builder and am glad to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

Decision to obey the federal court mandate was reached at 4:10 yesterday morning, after more than 17 hours' discussion by the miners' general committee.

At 10 a. m. attorneys for the miners appeared before Judge Anderson and submitted a draft of the order, which the court approved.

The decision to call off the strike was announced by Mr. Lewis soon after 4 yesterday morning in the following words:

WAS RESTLESS AT NIGHT

Coughs and colds are prevalent, and it is a serious mistake to neglect them, as dangerous sickness may develop from them. There is one safe and reliable family remedy for coughs, colds and croup, John Conroy, Oliver, Pa., writes: "My ailment was a bad cough for three years. Then I got a bad cold and could not sleep for coughing. I was restless at night, but I am all right now, thanks to Foley's Honey and Tar." It clears the throat, relieves phlegm and mucous and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest, surest relief for a Sour, Acid, Gassy Stomach—Distress vanishes!

Stomach acidity causes indigestion! Food souring, gas, distress! Wonder what upset your stomach? Well, don't bother! The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the lumps of indigestion pain, the sourness, heartburn and heaving of gases, due to acidity, vanish—truly wonderful!

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralize acidity and give relief at once—no waiting! Buy a box of Pape's Diapepsin now! Don't stay miserable! Try to regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without causing distress. The cost is so little. The benefits so great. You, too, will be a Diapepsin enthusiast afterwards.—Adv.

To Negotiate Agreement
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the coal operators' scale committee, announced today that the mine owners had accepted Secretary Wilson's invitation to meet representatives of the miners here Friday to negotiate a new wage agreement.

"We will be there," said he. John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, already had notified Secretary Wilson of his acceptance, meanwhile declining an offer from Brewster to meet the latter's committee here Monday to negotiate "a contract to be in force upon the termination of the contract now in effect."

HOME WELCOME TO SERVICE MEN

A delightful welcome home celebration to its former service men was staged by Lowell herd, No. 13, Benevolent Order of Buffalo, at its quarters in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex st., Monday evening. Entertainment numbers were given by James E. Hughes and President William H. Garvey, and the speakers included John J. Gilbride, John K. Kenney, chairman of the welcome home committee, President Garvey, Past Deputy James E. Hughes and Past Secretary James E. Lytle. During the evening the service flag of the organization was demobilized with special exercises under the direction of Robert M. Dempsey. Refreshments were served.

The service members of the order are John Broadhurst, Joseph Duval, Louis Kalof, James Thomas, William H. Hogan, Edward Preston, John J. McGlinchey, George R. Brown, Peter Gill and John Kenney.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE:

"A Man's Job," a thrilling melodrama of the days just prior to the signing of the armistice, while all the country joins in celebrating this week, is the offering of the popular Lowell Playhouse at the Opera House this week. The author of the play is none other than John Meehan, leading man of the Lowell company, who has written several stage successes, and it is one to judge from the applause which was awarded it during the initial performance.

"Please Get Married" has to do with a pair of adoring and extremely youthful lovers who embark on a honeymoon in blissful content, while their parents have learned that perhaps they may not have been married at all. The parents set out to overtake them, but the couple reach a mountain hotel ahead of their elders and prepare for the spooning they have waited so long for, when they are the victims of a series of interruptions that are as disconcerting to them as they are mirth-provoking. The play is one of the most enjoyable of its kind presented locally in a long time. The new Vitagraph comedy is also a clever production, while the Universal Weekly shows views of current events that are both instructive and interesting. The musical numbers are also very enjoyable.

THE STRAND THEATRE

Two excellent photoplays, "The Dragon Painter" and "Please Get Married," head the bill at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. The former is a love story, while the latter is a melodrama of high merit. In "The Dragon Painter" is featured Sessue Hayakawa in the title role, while in the other the leading part is being sustained by Viola Dana.

"The Dragon Painter" deals with a wild mountain artist who, during some day meeting his "Dragon Princess." The scenes of the story are in the land of the rising sun and the famous based on a beautiful legend of old Japan. The dragon painter lives the primitive life of a wild mountain youth in whose heart burns the mad fire of genius. In his imagination he conceives only perfect happiness when he shall have found his "Dragon Princess," the full realization of his ideal. At length he finds his way into the house of Kano, the last of the famous line of famous dragon painters, who conceives the idea of having his daughter impersonate the "Dragon Princess." In order that the genius of the youth may be stimulated and so perpetuate the name and art of his family, after the marriage the girl finds that the young artist is neglecting his painting because of his thought to please her and leaves him that he may dedicate his

The Way for a Woman With Work to Do

In order to meet the new and added demands, she must care for her body as never before. She must see that food nourishes and that her digestion is good: that her liver and kidneys act properly and that her blood and nerves are kept normal. Nature must have ability to respond to the unusual demands.

By Using Beecham's Pills

every organ will be helped to do its work normally and healthily. Woman has peculiar ills but only requires to be kept normal. Beecham's Pills by acting on the digestion and liver enable strength and vigor to be supplied to all of the organs—by so doing Beecham's Pills purify the blood, strengthen the nerves, give the clear eye and brain. They sweeten the breath and tint the skin with the glow of health. Women only need nourishing food and organs that function properly to give her physical and mental ability to cope with any situation. Any woman using Beecham's Pills will find

Candidates for mayor and commissioner were out in full force last evening and were heard in all parts of the city. Because of the fact that it was his first appearance since the campaign speaking tournament opened, Jackson Palmer held the centre of the stage. He talked to a gathering of more than 1,000 people at Tower's corner and raised the following issues, speaking from the viewpoint of the man who owns a small home worth two or three thousand dollars and covered by an ample mortgage; the father of one or two children, and perhaps the owner of a small car.

He said the first issue is the health, upbuilding and education of the children. The second the family finances, the third the safety and protection of the home, and the fourth the condition of the streets as viewed by the owner of a Ford.

In view of these observations, Mr. Palmer said he would confine himself to the department of health and

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications, will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Call Off Strike

Continued
The miners were expected to dispute the authority of the order issued yesterday by John L. Lewis, acting president of the organization, recalling the strike order in keeping with the direction of a federal court order. The statement of Duncan McDonald, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, that "if the position of the government is to be taken as a precedent, there is no such thing as freedom of contract and the entire issue might as well be fought out now" was interpreted as being the sentiment of a portion of the approximately 425,000 men who went on strike nearly two weeks ago.

It was agreed that many of the miners would return to work, notably in the Alabama, Texas, Ohio and Pennsylvania coal areas. The situation was doubtful in Iowa, Maryland, West Virginia, Indiana, Oklahoma, Illinois and Arkansas.

Headaches Left Her When Blood Became Enriched

Connecticut Resident Testifies to the Benefit She Received From Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There are many kinds of headache from different causes. If your headache is accompanied by a feeling of weakness, stomach trouble, exhaustion after slight effort, nervousness and dizziness, it is thin and that you are in need of the tonic which proved so beneficial to Mrs. E. A. Webber, of No. 4 Durham avenue, Middletown, Conn. She says:

"I was generally tired and had no ambition, my blood was thin and I was badly run down. My strength seemed to leave me and at times I thought my heart was affected. I had headaches and lost sleep."

"I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but had never tried them until some friends of mine in Maine, who had been benefited by the pills, recommended them to me. After the first box I began to feel like myself again and gained rapidly in strength. I took another box and the benefit continued. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a fine blood builder and am glad to recommend them."

coal mines of the country were sent out yesterday afternoon under the signatures of Acting Pres. John L. Lewis and Sec. Treas. William Green of the United Mine Workers of America.

Decision to obey the federal court mandate was reached at 4:10 yesterday morning, after more than 17 hours' discussion by the miners' general committee.

At 10 a. m. attorneys for the miners appeared before Judge Anderson and submitted a draft of the order, which the court approved.

The decision to call off the strike was announced by Mr. Lewis soon after 4 yesterday morning in the following words:

WAS RESTLESS AT NIGHT

Coughs and colds are prevalent, and it is a serious mistake to neglect them, as dangerous sickness may develop from them. There is one safe and reliable family remedy for coughs, colds and croup, John Conroy, Oliver, Pa., writes: "My ailment was a bad cough for three years. Then I got a bad cold and could not sleep for coughing. I was restless at night, but I am all right now, thanks to Foley's Honey and Tar." It clears the throat of phlegm and mucus and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

To Negotiate Agreement
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Thomas T. Brewster, chairman of the coal operators' scale committee, announced today that the mine owners had accepted Secretary Wilson's invitation to meet representatives of the miners here Friday to negotiate a new wage agreement.

"We will be there," said he.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, already had notified Secretary Wilson of his acceptance, meanwhile declining an offer from Brewster to meet the latter's committee here Monday to negotiate a contract to be in force upon the termination of the contract now in effect.

COAL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Some Miners Dispute Authority of Order Issued by Acting President Lewis

Original Demands Will be Presented to Operators at Friday's Session

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—Original demands of a 60 per cent increase in wages, a six hour day and a five day week, will be presented to operators by mine workers in the joint scale conferences called for Friday in Washington at the instance of Secretary of Labor Wilson, according to Frank Farrington, chairman of the miners' scale committee, who came here today, en route to the national capital.

Returning to Work
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Resumption of work in the country's bituminous coal mines today was expected to be extensive but not on a scale that would permit anything like normal production, according to statements of United Mine Workers of America leaders and coal mine operators. In some sections

I. W. W. TO LAUNCH A PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Industrial Workers of the World are preparing to launch from their headquarters here a propaganda campaign throughout the northwest and perhaps through the entire west, in the near future, according to officials of the department of justice. So far they have received no order to proceed against them.

TRYING TO SETTLE MOLDERS' STRIKE

Representatives of the local molders' union and foundry employers made another attempt at settling the molders' strike which has been in operation in this city since last May when they met at city hall today before Bernard F. Supple of the state board of arbitration and conciliation. Last Monday a similar attempt was made and while some progress was noted, nothing definite was decided. The same held true of today's conference up until 3.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The conferees met in the mayor's reception room at 10 o'clock this morning and were in session for two hours and a half. At 2 o'clock they met again and at the time of going to press a settlement had not been reached. At the request of Patrick Ryan, one of the employing foundrymen, newspaper representatives were barred from today's sessions.

PRINTING TAX BOOKS
The office of the board of assessors at city hall has been besieged during the last few weeks with requests as to when this year's tax books will be available. The books are now in the hands of the printers, but the assessors say that it is doubtful if they will be ready for distribution before December 1. As soon as they are available the public will be notified.

MANSLAUGHTER CASES IN POLICE COURT

On the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of four-year-old Dorothy Lyon of West Andover, who was fatally injured by an automobile in Merrimack square, October 7, Perley D. Smith of Melburn, alleged by the police to be the driver of the car which killed the girl, was arraigned on continuance in police court today and a further continuance ordered until December 10, to await the result of the inquest now being held on the accident. Smith has pleaded not guilty and furnished bail of $2000.

Another manslaughter case scheduled to be called today was continued until November 25, the inquest report not being completed. This is the case against Charles L. Bond, of Boston, the Harvard student who is alleged to have been the driver of the auto which struck and fatally injured Joseph Zanoni, 43 North street, as the boy was crossing over Lawrence street on the afternoon of October 13. He has also furnished bail.

Other Offenders
Michael Alexander, found guilty of assault and battery on John Clark last Sunday afternoon, was ordered to pay the costs of the trial.

Alleged to have been hunting without a certificate of registration, Arthur E. Austin had his case continued until November 15. He pleaded not guilty.

MUST INCREASE ADV. RATES

Radical Advances Necessary to Hold Back Sluice of Advertising Now Pouring in

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Increased advertising rates and reduction in the size of newspapers were urged today by Franklin P. Glass, of Birmingham, Ala., president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, at a special meeting here to consider the news print shortage.

Every paper, he said, should agree to cut down its average number of pages, both week-day and Sunday, by a considerable percentage and then hold down its advertising volume to a fixed number of pages. This will probably necessitate an arbitrary reduction of at least 33 per cent in volume of business.

Radical advances should be made in advertising rates. The percentages of increase should be such that they hold back the sluice of advertising that has poured into our offices and bids fair to continue during the next year.

Declaring that English newspapers during the war reduced their size by one-third, but so advanced rates that most of them earned more than before the war, Mr. Glass said:

"It is plain that proper restriction of advertising space will not work any financial hardship here."

Mr. Glass urged that newspaper publishers seek more harmonious relations with news print manufacturers and in connection with the convention of the American Pulp and Paper Association which is meeting simultaneously in the same hotel, urged that conferences be inaugurated to see "if some fair, broad-minded policy of doing business cannot be devised."

To increase the manufacture of paper, Mr. Glass suggested that the convention urge passage of the water power bill now pending in congress and that an arrangement be made with the Canadian government to bring pulp to American mills without prohibitive restrictions on the Canadian side. He said that a three weeks' tour in the east and Canada, during which he talked with print manufacturers and brokers, convinced him that publishers themselves, "are mainly responsible for this wild market and for the shortage."

An extraordinary volume of advertising, he said, had resulted in the consumption of surplus stocks.

WILL VOTE ON LICENSE AT CITY ELECTION

Despite the fact that the federal authorities have passed the national prohibition act, Lowell voters will have another opportunity to express their opinion as to whether this city should be wet or dry in 1920, at the city election, Dec. 5.

According to officials of the city clerk's office, the time-honored question must be included on the ballot at the local election because the Massachusetts statutes require it and the state law has not yet been repealed.

Accordingly, every voter will have an opportunity of marking a cross against "yes" or "no" on the ancient question that used to mean so much in bygone days. But this year "yes" and "no" will mean practically the same as far as relieving the arid tension in 1920 is concerned. But perhaps it will relieve some people's feelings to be able to express their sentiments even though that's as far as it will go. Therefore, one of the issues of the city campaign will be license or no-license. Just as though there had never been incorporated in the bright lexicon of legislation the word "prohibition."

With the mills. They have maintained a 100 per cent production, perhaps more than normal. We cannot look to them for prompt relief. We must depend on ourselves.

Mr. Glass said newspaper advertising rates always have been too low and an advance of 25 or 30 per cent would not be enough because cost of production had increased 100 per cent in the last year.

Armed Revolution Against U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The shooting of four ex-service men in Armistice day parade in Centralia, Wash., was described in the house today by Representative Johnson, republican, Wash., chairman of the immigration committee as "an attempt at revolution with bullets and rifles, which the country has long feared."

Mr. Johnson sent a telegram to Mayor Rogers of Centralia, saying the country "must be purged of seditionists and revolutionists to the last one, and if this means war, the quicker it is declared the better."

To Invoke Cloture Rule in Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A movement to limit senate debate on the peace treaty by invoking the cloture rule was inaugurated today by democratic leaders. A petition for cloture, requiring but 16 signatures for submission, was circulated by the administration leaders and soon had more than double the necessary number. Some republican leaders said they would support the democratic cloture proposal, which had been circulated after consultation between leaders of both parties.

$36,000 Fire on Food Steamer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Fire of unknown origin today caused $36,000 damage to the cargo of the steamship Ozaukee, loaded with foodstuffs, clothing and 14 bales of cotton for the Polish relief fund. The ship was tied up at North River pier.

LEGION PARADE FIRED UPON

I. W. W. Blamed for Attack on Marchers in Armistice Day Celebration

Fire From Roofs as War Veterans March—Lynching Follows

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 12.—State troops today patrolled this city where during an armistice day celebration yesterday four members of the American Legion were shot and killed by men said to be members of the I. W. W. and Britt Smith, secretary of the local branch of the Industrial Workers' hanged by a mob.

The reason for the attack which came as the head of the legion parade swung past I. W. W. headquarters, had not been developed fully, but the authorities said evidence had been obtained that it was premeditated.

Without warning bursts of rifle fire swept the ranks of marching veterans as they paraded past I. W. W. headquarters. Bullets came from that building and the roof of a building across the street. Persons in the crowd that lined the street also drew weapons and began firing.

Legion Parade Fired Upon

of men, dropped, mortally wounded. Arthur McElfresh, marching in the ranks, was killed instantly. Ben Casagrande died later from his wounds. John Earl Watt, George Stevens, Jacob Pitzler and E. Eubanks also fell wounded, the first named probably fatally. Stevens was shot when he attempted to disarm an I.W.W. standing on the street.

The fourth death of a parade was added when Dale Hubbard, an overseas veteran, gathered a small band and started after the I.W.W. secretary. Hubbard and the fugitive grappled after a chase in which Smith fired repeatedly at his pursuers. As they clung, Hubbard received four wounds in the body.

Smith Hanged; Body Riddled

Another pursuer overpowered Smith and he was taken to jail. Later he was removed and hanged after citizens learned that four of the former soldiers had died. An attempt to lynch Smith had been made before he was lodged in the jail.

"You fellows can't hang me," he said. "I was sent to do my duty and I did it."

Smith was tossed from a bridge over the Chehalis river after a rope was tied about his neck and a volley of bullets sent into his body. The lynching party worked silently and in darkness while taking him from the jail. At 7:30 o'clock, all the city's electric lights were cut off and eight men essay overcome the one man on guard inside the jail. Smith was placed in one of about six darkened automobiles that stood about the jail, and rushed to the bridge.

To Drive Out All Radicals

Little was known of Smith. He came here a short time ago.

Two undertakers refused to handle the body, and what disposal would be made of it was not known. Citizens today planned to drive all radicals from Centralla where they have been increasing for some time and operating into the logging camps and other industrial centers. American Legion members declared every I.W.W. must leave the city.

Planned to "Get" Ex-Soldiers

One of 20 men arrested in the raids following the attack on the parade was said to have confessed that plans "had been made months ago to 'get' Warren Grima and Arthur McElfresh, two of those killed and William Schales and Capt. David Livingston." The four had been active in suppressing radical activities in this community.

The Centralla police force consists of only five paid members and they were powerless in the face of the great odds against them, both in combatting the I.W.W. and in defending Smith before he was hanged. Members of the legion assisted them in patrolling and in guarding the jail.

Eye-Witness Account of Attack

One eye-witness account of the attack on the marchers was that it came just as the head of the line slowed

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

down to "mark time" in front of the I.W.W. headquarters to permit the rest of the column to make up distance. From the roof and windows of the I.W.W. headquarters and buildings across the street and from pedestrians volleys of bullets sprayed the halted ranks.

Men came running from different exits of the I.W.W. hall.

Secretary Smith fled from a rear entrance, firing an automatic. His weapon "jammed," but he restored it to working condition and continued to fire until he was overtaken and disarmed.

Legion to Combat Radicalism

Clashes between the I.W.W. and Centralla citizens have occurred at intervals during the past two years. The first trouble occurred when a radical spoke against a Red Cross bazaar. At that time a crowd removed all furniture from the I.W.W. hall and burned it in the street.

Gov. Hart today was en route to the capital from the eastern part of the state. His only statement was "there will be no mob rule at Centralla."

The request that troops be sent to Centralla was followed by a cancellation from the prosecuting attorney, but it was not sent in time to halt departure from Tacoma of a company of 75 state militiamen.

From Yakima today came a report that members of the American Legion there were discussing formation of a secret order within the legion designed to combat radicalism.

The mob was said to have consisted of 400 former service men and members of the American Legion.

The offices of the World, a socialist

The communist labor party is said to be a new radical organization here.

The wrecking of the committee's headquarters was carried out in methodical fashion and with such swiftness that by the time the police arrived on the scene the crowd had dispersed and none could be identified as having been connected with the raid.

men taken into custody by the police in a raid on headquarters of the "council of workmen, soldiers and sailors" last night. Reports that speakers at a meeting of the council had denounced the American Legion and had charged members of the organization with responsibility for the riots at Centralla Washn., yesterday, in which four men were killed, caused Mayor George Baker, to order the raid.

As soon as reports of the Centralla trouble reached here, Chief of Police Jennings summoned all available patrolmen to be held in reserve. Agents of the police sent to the meeting of the council reported the speeches were of an incendiary character and the raid followed, all those taken into custody being charged with vagrancy.

One of the prisoners, Joseph Laundry, is a candidate for the presidency of the Central labor council. Two other prisoners have been prominent in radical agitation here.

To Solve Hungarian Situation

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—(Via London)—The allies have taken energetic measures to solve the Hungarian political situation, according to reports from Budapest to the Lokal Anzeiger. Sir George Clerk, the allied emissary has delivered on behalf of the supreme council, it is stated, an ultimatum to Premier Friedrich, notifying him that a coalition cabinet must be formed within 48 hours or that he must retire from the premiership.

Reds Cheered at Election Riot

PARIS, Nov. 12.—An election riot with revolutionary features occurred today in the small industrial town of Dorian, department of Ain, where extremists are numerous. The republican candidates were received with shouts of "Long live Lenin and the revolution!" "Long live the Boches!" "Down with the army and the bourgeoisie!" The republicans were threatened with death and besieged in the town hall by the turbulent elements. Red flags were carried and the revolution was acclaimed by the besiegers.

Official Time of Great Air Derby

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, the "flying parson" won the recent army transcontinental airplane race with the shortest elapsed time—9 days, four hours, 26 minutes and 5 seconds—according to an official decision of the war department announced here last night at the American Flying Club's Armistice day dinner. On actual flying time however, Maynard was fifth to Lieut. Alexander Pearson, who spent 48 hours, 57 minutes and 16 seconds in the air. Lt. Maynard gave an exhibition of flying at Boston yesterday.

The Buddies again held forth at the Highland club house last evening when they conducted their second dancing party of the season for the entertainment of a large number of their friends. The dance continued until midnight, with perfect comradeship featuring the success of the affair. The Buddies in charge were Charles Keyes, Patrick Mullane, John Maguire, William Golden and James Gillooly.

The dance given at the Highland club house Monday evening by the Altonians was one of the most enjoyable of the many which have been held there during the past month. In keeping with the celebration of Armistice day the hall was decorated with the national colors and a patriotic keynote was evident throughout the evening. During an intermission refreshments were served by Caterer Harvey. Several novelty dances added interest to the program. The three members of the Altonians who successfully managed the affair were Herbert Harris, John Clark and Edward Albott.

Plot to Seize New York Hotels

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Danger of a general strike of hotel employees with its ultimate object the "taking over" of hotel properties, was discussed today at the 34th annual convention of the New York State Hotel association. Assertion that Dec. 20 had been decided upon by radical leaders as the date for such a strike, was made last night by Frank Boland, attorney for the association. "You men may not realize it," he said, "but a secret movement to take over your property is on foot. Don't feel any sense of security. It is dangerous just now, and the movement is general throughout the state." Advocating a "house cleaning" while the opportunity was at hand, Mr. Boland urged hotelmen to "take your faithful employees into your confidence and don't be caught off guard."

The Perfect Oil for Salads

It is delicacy and smoothness that make real Mayonnaise Dressing. It is delicacy and smoothness that make Mazola so popular with those who like Salads properly dressed. Italians who know real olive oil are enthusiastic about Mazola.

Your grocer sells Mazola at much less the price of the best olive oil, which permits you to have salads at home as often as you please without worrying too much about the cost of the dressing.

Make This Delicious Mayonnaise Dressing Today

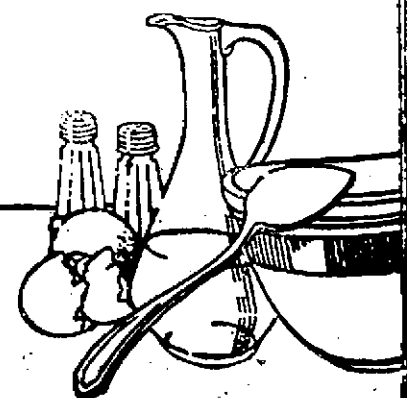

2 Eggs, Yolks only 1 pint of Mazola 1 teaspoon of Mustard
1 dash of Pepper 1 teaspoon of Salt 4 tablespoons of Vinegar

Have all ingredients and mixing utensils cold. Mix dry ingredients. Add egg yolks and when well mixed add 1/2 teaspoon of vinegar. Add Mazola drop by drop until the mixture begins to thicken, beating slowly. As soon as the mixture thickens, add the remainder of the vinegar, a little at a time. Now beat in the remainder of the Mazola gradually until all is used. The mayonnaise should be thick enough to hold its shape. Put in a glass jar and cover close. Place in the ice box to be used when needed. It will keep for weeks. Do not stir it when you open it; take out as much as you need with a tablespoon, and close the jar.

SOUTH END CELEBRATION

Banquet Features Happy Conclusion to Big Home Welcome to Heroes

Those who worked untiringly to make the South End welcome-home celebration a complete success, members of the various committees of the women's auxiliary and several invited guests were present at the banquet held yesterday afternoon in Hamilton hall, Odd Fellows building, to officially bring the event to a happy conclusion. It was an occasion for expressions of appreciation and congratulation and amid such surroundings the affair could be nothing but delightfully pleasant.

Fully 300 sat around the banquet tables, the head table guests including: John W. Sharkey, Rev. John S. Perry, Rev. N. W. Matthews, Lt. Daniel M. Foley, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, George P. Conway, John H. Condon, Daniel Cosgrove, Mrs. Theresa Corby Melancon, Miss Mollie Roane, Miss Kathleen O'Dea, Redmond Welch, Frank Corcoran, Lieut. James Hogan, John Sadler and John Devlin.

Following the invocation of the divine blessing by Rev. John S. Perry of St. Anthony's church, Caterer Lydon served a bountiful turkey dinner which thoroughly satisfied the most exacting dietitian.

John H. Condon introduced John W. Sharkey as toastmaster and the latter was most acceptable in this difficult position. He welcomed the women present and called upon Commissioner Donnelly who responded with several of his better known songs. Rev. N. W. Matthews spoke in a humorous vein, thanked the committee of its invitation to be present and extended his congratulations to the committee workers on the success scored.

Daniel Cosgrove, chairman of the general committee, and one of the most earnest workers for the celebration program, expressed his thanks for the splendid co-operation given him and paid tribute to the help the women afforded in the work. Mr. Cosgrove made a rousing speech describing the enthusiasm with which the South End people entered into the movement to Songs by Miss Mae Rynne, Miss Loretta Pinnerly and Miss Marion Sanderson were much enjoyed, after which brief remarks were made by Rev. F. Perry and James E. Donnelly. Police Superintendent Redmond Welch waxed eloquent for a bit and entertained with a number of stories of South End application. The Goggin sisters gave the several piano and violin duets and the gathering sang "The Star Spangled Banner" to bring the meeting to a close.

Throughout the afternoon Miss Esther Crowley played the accompaniment for all of the soloists.

The committee in charge of the banquet included: Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Buckley, assistant chairman; Miss Mollie Roane, Mrs. Maria Markham, Miss Mary E. Markham, Miss Mary T. Carmody, Miss Anastasia Lannon, Mrs. George P. Underwood and Mrs. Michael J. Sharkey.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A regular meeting of the members of Loyalty Integrity lodge, 6830, I.O.O.F., M. U., was held Monday evening with G.M. William DeLong acting as N.G. pro tem.

The attendance was large and considerable business was transacted. Two new members were elected to honorary membership and five new members were initiated. The entertainment committee was instructed to take up the matter of a welcome home reception for the members of the organization who were in the service. At the close of the meeting interesting remarks were made by Brig. Gen. Bowles, P.G. Arthur DeLong and P.G. George Mackley.

Gen. Adelbert Ames Camp

A feature of Monday evening's meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, 19, U. S.W.V., was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Commander, Richard Gibson; S.U.C., P. J. Burns; J. V.C. Thomas; officer of the day, Carl Plinger; officer of grand, George Everett; trustees, A. D. Mitchell and W. J. Bradley.

After the meeting, in conjunction with the auxiliary, a supper was served which was enjoyed by all.

Div. 11, A.O.F.

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the members of Div. 11, A.O.F., which was held last evening. Considerable business was transacted and at the close of the business session a social hour was held in observance of Armistice day, during which interesting remarks were given by John J. Donovan and others. Later general dancing was enjoyed, music being furnished by Walls' orchestra. The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Patrick Finnich, chairman; Thomas Meskill, John Kenny, John McQueney and William Nelson.

S. H. Hanes' Lodge

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the members of S. H. Hanes' lodge, 56, K. of P., which was held last evening. It was announced that the entertainment committee has made arrangements for a good time to be held on the evening of Nov. 25 and also that the nomination of officers will take place Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

LABOR UNION MEETINGS

A conference between representatives of the Machinists' union and officials of the Saco-Lowell shops and the Holme Electric Co. relative to an increase in wages for the machinists employed in those plants, was held Monday afternoon, but nothing was accomplished and at the close of the conference it was announced that another conference would be held in the latter part of the week. The workmen have asked for an increase in wages and it is stated that they have already voted to strike if their demand is not granted. The representatives of the union at the conference were Organizers Larkin and McCahe and Robert Fecher, a member of the executive board of the International Union of Machinists.

Molders' Union

President John P. Wellman occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the Molders' union, which was held Monday night. A lengthy report of the conference held Monday afternoon at city hall was given by Charles E. Anderson and routine business was transacted.

Loomfixers' Union

Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Loomfixers' union, which was held Monday night. The attendance was large and at the close of the business session a social hour was held.

Beauty Answers By MADAME MAREE

MISS GERTIE O. M.—You say you are 25 and look like 35. If you will try this wrinkle formula you will look like 20, and this is no exaggeration. Your actual results will prove it if you will make up your mind to use this formula, liberally, every day, and use no other so-called wrinkle cream. Add two tablespoons of glycerine and two ounces of oil to a pint of hot water. Keep stirring until they form a satiny cream. This is so economical that it can be used generously, and will hasten the result. It removes wrinkles, crows' feet and lines of age. The oil can be obtained for not more than 50 cents at any drug store.

MRS. S. O. S.—Your hair should at once stop falling if you will use my hair formula. Every one who has tried it says it is perfectly astounding how it makes the hair grow and stops hair falling. Get one ounce of betanul from your druggist for 50 cents and mix it with one pint of witch hazel or, if preferred, in one-half pint each of water and lay run. Use this every day and your dream of long, silky, beautiful hair will truly come true. In making up this mixture you will find it will give you over a pint of the hair grower at a smaller cost than that of any prepared hair treatment, and besides, you have the best you can get anywhere. It will not fail to give results.

MRS. B. O. T.—Your hair is brittle because of the soap and ordinary shampoos you have been using. You know they all contain alkali. That dries up the natural oils. Now, just dissolve a teaspoonful of eggol in a cup of water and use as a headwash and you'll see how different your hair will be. All fatty accumulations and dandruff will disappear like magic. You'll never use anything else. Enough eggol can be got for 25 cents at the drug store for over a dozen of these shampoos.—Adv.

DE PAUL EASY Western Eleven Outclassed by St. John's Prep

LAWRENCE, Nov. 12.—The St. John's Prep school football machine smothered the lightweight De Paul academy eleven of Chicago at O'Sullivan park yesterday afternoon by the score of 21 to 0. Heretofore as an inter-sectional contest between two exceptionally clever aggregations, a crowd of 2000 attended, but the contest was disappointing from the standpoint of a battle.

Three years ago De Paul sent a team of wonderful ability into the east and matched it against Somerville high, but yesterday's eleven was only a skeleton of the earlier invaders and to boot, lacked cohesiveness, football sense, attack and weight. Only once during the game did De Paul make his backfield of Leonard, Carpenter and Bartley ripped the De Paul line.

St. John's outplayed the men from the Lawrence school in all departments. Their backfield of Leonard, Carpenter and Bartley ripped the De Paul line.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS TELLS HOW SHE GOT WELL

Mrs. G. L. Baird, of 30 Glenville ave., Allston, Mass., writes: "I have been sick almost two years, had four doctors with little or no relief. I was growing thin every day, went from 135 to 111. I was so discouraged I didn't know what to do. One night, about three weeks ago, I picked up a paper and saw your Dr. True's Elixir, Family Laxative and Worm Expeller advertised. I made up my mind I had worms and the next day bought a small bottle of Dr. True's Elixir. I was surprised at the result, stomach worms came a finger long, so much so that I looked as though it was just the skin of worms. The day before I took Dr. True's Elixir I thought I should go wild with the crawling in my stomach. I feel like a new person, all my friends say I look so much better. I wouldn't have believed anyone could feel so much better in such a short time. I can't give your medicine praise enough."

Signs of worms: Offensive breath, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, dizziness, occasional griping, pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, frequent grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, is sold by ALL DEALERS.—Adv.

MINERS' STRIKE CALLED OFF
Armistice day brought the cancellation of the miners' strike order, in accordance with the demand of the federal court and as a result, the whole country today will breathe easier.
The leaders of the miners have done the right thing, and in declaring their Americanism in revoking the strike order, they have won general good will. "We are Americans, we cannot fight our government," says President Lewis in his order of cancellation. It is to be hoped that this sentiment will be reflected in the future action of the miners as a body in their prompt return to work.
The government has been able to avert suffering and loss not only to the parties concerned but to the entire nation through the operation of a law enacted to protect the public during the war. That law known as the Lever act, will lapse with the official declaration of peace; but hereafter, it is safe to predict, the government will be required to adopt similar measures to protect the people whenever a national calamity is threatened as a result of either a strike or a lockout.
With the strike declared off, the secretary of labor has arranged for a renewal of negotiations between the operators and the miners, beginning at Washington next Monday, as a result of which it is hoped full justice will be done to the miners.
The American Federation of Labor could not possibly adopt a more direct path to self extinction than by setting itself squarely in opposition to any court order or law of the United States.
Had the miners refused to cancel the strike order, they would have set themselves up in defiance of the supreme authority of the government and incurred the penalties provided for such offences. That they number 400,000 or over will not enable them to evade the law. The government authorities see in this strike, not the effort of honest labor to secure better conditions, but the first great overt act towards coercing the government into the nationalization of the mines.
The miners will get justice, but not as the result of coercion as was the case when the Adamson law was passed. The radicals working through the labor unions will not be allowed to menace law and order, and the very existence of our government.
PROGRAM OF THE REDS
During the campaign against the Reds and their radical allies in this country, the labor organization that sets itself up against the government or in opposition to any court order, must be classed among the enemies of the republic.
The time has arrived when all organizations that set themselves up in defiance of the government must be convinced that they will have to obey the law or cease to function. Labor organizations claim the right to strike in a body under any or all circumstances, regardless of consequences, even when, as in case of the miners' strike, such action might bring a calamity of the worst kind upon the entire nation. Upon this question, where the safety of the public is involved, the claim of labor is decidedly wrong. The interests and the safety of the public are paramount, so that it is quite within the purview of the law to prohibit such strikes even if they are founded upon grievances that in justice should be redressed.
The miners may have had reason to complain; but that did not justify them in violating their agreement with the operators, nor would it justify them in any course of action that would bring incalculable loss and suffering upon the public.
The Sun has continuously held that in the employ of public service corporations, strikes should be forbidden and all labor claims and disputes submitted to arbitration or to an industrial court established for the purpose. Some arrangement of this kind must be made if the industries of the country are to be protected against ruinous strikes that would tie up the transportation systems and spread famine and death throughout the land.
The worst feature of the labor strike is, that it is being used for revolutionary purposes by radicals of the foreign type by the union of Russian workers, the I. W. W.,

ment over till next year in the heat of a presidential campaign. Thus far the republicans have been unable to agree upon a proper solution and to save the reputation of the party claiming superior business capacity, the roads are to be turned back to the owners under the same rentals now being paid by the government, pending the final settlement at whatever time will best serve the political exigencies of the party.
Since the special session was called, May 10, the republicans have had plenty of time to deal with this question, but they are simply evading the settlement for political reasons; and meantime the roads will continue to receive war subsidies. The senate has proposed an anti-strike provision to which the house has objected and now the leaders who view all such questions through political glasses decide that no such provision shall be forced upon organized labor at the present time. So much for the boasted business ability of the G. O. P. congress. Its ability as usual serves to shine particularly in the game of politics.
HONESTY
Honest goods are more easily sold. It takes less time and effort and money to sell an honest proposition than one that is questionable. This is a discovery since advertising has become so generally used in promoting sales.
An advertisement for a questionable article or proposition does not draw as large a number of inquiries as an honest one. While the unwary may be caught by dishonest schemes, the shrewd people are quick to see and suspect whatever smacks of dishonesty or trickery. The wise ones are more numerous than the suckers and they have more money.
Thus honest advertising brings a larger return than that which is questionable; for it has a wider field in its appeal. The discovery that honesty in advertising pays has done more to clean advertising than any power of individual or organized censorship. It is all in the fact that as a matter of profit, honesty in advertising as in personal salesmanship, is not just the best policy, but the only policy.—N. E. A.
If the republican majority in the house of representatives will permit the investigation of its several "smelling" committees requested by a democratic member, the public will soon have definite information as to how much the taxpayers have unwittingly contributed to the expense of gathering campaign material for the G. O. P.
Soldiers are waiting more or less patiently to find what congress is going to do to redeem republican promises of compensatory legislation. Republican leaders reply that they are waiting to ascertain what the soldiers desire. But these same leaders didn't consult the soldiers last spring before making their pledges of immediate action.
More power to the department of justice in its efforts to head off the demonstration of the Reds. If a thousand or two of the leaders be shipped back to the countries whence they came, the remaining portion of the cult may conclude to respect our laws at least to the extent of giving their attention to other occupations than plotting rebellion.

Some plants can move about as easily as animals, wall flowers, for instance.
Since a good Chinese wants to be buried in China, the bodies of those who die in foreign lands are not sent there separately, but are accumulated until they make up a shipment and can be transported at minimum expense.
Checking the Children
The shimmy, the angleworm twist, the caveman squeeze and similar practices of the public dance floor are barred in Pittsburgh, Kan., by order of the welfare board. The board has further ruled that parents who attend public dances must check children under 16 in the ante room.
And what may we ask, are children who attend public dances expected to do with their parents? Leave 'em at home as per usual?
Still Feeding Humans
Louis J. Abilla, Mex philosopher, who says you can live 100 years on a steady diet of raw oats and rice, evidently hasn't learned that you can kill a horse feeding him nothing but raw oats and rice. Possibly he thinks the human constitution is stronger than that possessed by the horse. But who'd want to live 400 years if he faced a life of raw oats three times a day? Or even 40 years? Or even four? Possibly Senator Abilla thinks an ordinary lifetime given over to the eating of raw oats would seem like 400 years. Well say it would!

Relief awaits you. Open your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of your head; stop nose running; relieve the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness. "Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance. Tastes nice. Contains no quinine. Insist on Pape's!
The busy street until he reached the traffic policeman.
"Officer," he began excitedly, "have you been in Chicago long?"
"Ten years, sir," replied the policeman.
"Well, do you know where I can find a man called Brown?"
"No sir."
"Sure you can't?" persisted the old man urgently.
"Look here!" said the policeman impatiently. "There are two and a half million people in Chicago. Do you expect me to know all of them?"
"No," was the old chap's cold retort, "but I thought you might have sense enough to know one."
Nail for Wooden Head
A cycling dude was riding along when his hat blew off. A passing countryman picked it up and took it to him as he circled round, saving him the trouble of getting off his machine.
"I really must get some string to keep this bally hat on," muttered the rider, as he wheeled off without a word of thanks.
The countryman's reply was short, but expressive: "Get a nail, guv'nor!"
Hiding the Roll
A hungry urchin entered a London baker's shop one foggy night and asked for a roll.
The boy then made a novel request.
"My brother's outside," he said "and it's 'I know I've got this 'ere 'ell take it away from me. Will yer 'ide it for me, guv'nor, down 'ere," pointing to the back of his neck.
Being a humane man, the shopkeeper came from behind the counter and stuffed the roll down the back of the lad's neck.
"Thanks, guv'nor, that'll do," said the boy as he ran out of the shop.
A few minutes later another urchin confronted the baker.
"As a young blighter bin in and bought a guster?"
Human Nature
Yes, Luella, things are looking pretty good. The way has gotten pretty soft to middle ground.
Anyway, we aren't progressing to improvement very fast.
And the present situation isn't very apt to last.
What the trouble is, my dearie, isn't very hard to find.
On the one hand men are very loth to leave the past behind.
On the other, it's a man's nature, where the guv is wild and wild.

Men at best are stubborn creatures, each according to his lights; Thus it is we have our shindies and a lot of little as man's.
Once we learn respect for justice everywhere and all around.
All of us shall stand together on the rock of middle ground.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough
This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.
You might be surprised to know that the best cough you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.
Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.
And another cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.
To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MAN ABOUT TOWN
Some people are very accommodating and one of the candidates for mayor can vouch for this, for last Sunday he had occasion to know how good it feels to be with real good fellows. It seems that this candidate's car stalled in Acton street, over a mile from the nearest garage and refused to budge. Luckily just opposite the spot where the machine became stalled, the automobile man of the Lowell Fertilizing company, was working on a car and he quickly went to the assistance of the driver of the stalled auto. Everything possible was done to start the disabled car, but all efforts proved fruitless. Finally, although the gasoline indicator showed there was some gas in the tank, it was found that the tank was empty and there was no place in the near vicinity where gasoline could be obtained. The machinist volunteered to get enough "juice" to carry the machine to the nearest garage and that was no easy task, but much to his credit he succeeded. The young man walked about a mile across fields, went into a private garage "armed" with a gallon bottle and a pair of pliers and after tapping the tank of an old machine, which had never been drained out, he succeeded in getting a gallon of gasoline, poured it into the tank of the disabled car with the result that the candidate was able to continue his trip. Now the most important part of this little story is that the machinist refused to accept any money for his services and furthermore he informed the candidate that he would go among his friends and do all he could in boosting his candidacy. "That's the type of a man one likes to meet on the road," said the candidate when he returned to the city.
Galli-Curel was at her best Sunday afternoon. At least, it seemed to a layman that she had reached the height of heights and that further beauty of tone, further accuracy of diction, further delightful pleasure in her own art would have moored her on the isolated rocks that only superhumans inhabit. And that is a danger that Mme. Galli-Curel has artistically avoided. In her varied career she has ever been human. "Homo sum—I am a man," one of the characters of classic history, once said when he wanted to express his interest in all things that pertained to men. And so might Galli-Curel well say: "Femina sum—I am a woman." For she is first a woman and then a great artist. She was human when she chose to give up a life of ease and luxury that might easily have been hers for the mere taking, in order that she might fulfill her very human desire to accomplish something of her own initiative and own ability. She was human when her family met reverses of a financial nature and she girded herself for four years' struggle to keep her family out of want. And she was human when at last success came winging its way toward her after being delayed many long, discouraging years. And it's because she has gone through all these experiences of ordinary humans, still keeping her sense of the artistic and a resolve to gratify that sense, that today she is able to sing her way to the hearts of human beings. For Galli-Curel's own heart is made up of the solid structure that comprises the heart of most humans.
But back to Sunday afternoon. Symphony hall could not well have held more. Capacious as it is, it was all too meagre for the host who wanted to hear the notes of the songbird. Also were filled with hundreds eager to stand for several hours that they might drink in the wealth of song that was being dispensed. The platform itself, usually reserved for the artist and accompanist, held several hundred on either side, so jealous of space that they left but a narrow passageway for the singer to make her entrances and exits. But Galli-Curel was exultant rather than inconvenienced or fazed by the throng that surrounded her. Every age was represented in the vast audience, and through her program everybody was motionless. When she first made her appearance, it is true, there were many who used their opera glasses, that they might get an intimate view of her, but as she sang on, it was interesting to note that gradually the opera glasses lay unused in their owners' laps and all interest centered on the artist's voice, not her appearance. A subtle tribute to her magic, perhaps, but none the less a real one. And then over on one side of the platform sat a middle-aged gentleman, not five yards distant from the singer herself, who leaned over in a strained position with a mechanical device clapped over his ear that he might get what he could of the feast that those surrounding him were able to enjoy without difficulty. One's ears and one's hearing suddenly became more valuable assets after a glance at the unfortunate victim of deafness who was determined that his malady shouldn't cheat him of his enjoyment.
Galli-Curel was gowned in soft pink, contrasting soothfully with the deep hue of her hair. And she sought to continue this contrast by braiding, if that be the term, that ran from her shoulders to her waist on either side. At first it was deceiving. One thought that she had allowed loose braids of her hair to fall over her shoulders. Her published photographs do the singer no credit. Much stouter in face and pleasantly ample in figure, she is vastly better looking than her pictures would lead one to think. And she has the vivacious mannerisms of her Italy. Subdued, perhaps, but nevertheless noticeable. She walks briskly and while waiting for her accompaniment, tosses her head from one side to the other. And over it all is her smile of the Southland that immediately wins one. In passing from the front of the platform to her exit in the rear after one of her numbers, she changed to knock an article of clothing to the floor that one of her auditors had left in the way and she immediately stooped to pick it up. The human in her once more came to the surface.

As for her program, let your music critic tell you of her technical excellencies. By intuition the layman realizes that she possesses them even though he can't define them. She opened with a brace of old English numbers that were at all times vivacious and served to bring out her faultless mastery of English. The "Caro Verdi" from "Rigoletto" brought out Verdi's best liked number, in the opinion of many, and Galli-Curel attributed to it a control of the higher chords that actually brought gasps. Her high notes developed power as she held them as though some inward force was giving them strength and range. Filling's "L'Heure Exquise" brought out her tenderness and the Spanish "Calvellos" was a rollicking, amusing bit of art. "I Saw Thee Weep" returned the audience to thoughts more serious, and the glorious "Scumpo Libera" from Verdi's "Traviata" left the crowd in an ecstasy of enthusiasm. Then came a series of bergerettes of 18th century, trilling in their every note the spirit of France of that time. The mad scene from Hamlet closed the formal program and was a fitting climax. Mme. Galli-Curel was required to respond three or four times after every number and was generous enough to give a half dozen extras. "Way Down Upon the Swane River," "Home, Sweet Home," and "Robin Adair" were the numbers given in English and intermingled were several in French and one in her beloved Italian. Mr. Berengere, flutist, gave pleasure in a number of accompaniments, notably in the mad scene, and in two solos was enthusiastically received. Homer Samuels at the piano was most sympathetic and intelligent. In all, it was an afternoon of pleasure such as New England enjoys on but rare occasions.

Seborrhea Kills the Hair
Famo Kills Seborrhea
Seborrhea is an old trouble to which scientists have given a new name. And science has found in Famo a new way of overcoming it.
Seborrhea is the disease which kills the roots of the hair by means of the deadly dandruff bacilli. It does to the hair what pyorrhea does to the teeth.
Famo is a formula worked out in one of the recognized pharmaceutical laboratories of Detroit. Three years were required to develop Famo.
It proved its efficacy before it was offered to the public.
The way in which Famo does its work is almost unbelievable.
Transformation is Wonderful.
Almost at once your eyes testify to the transformation.
New hair grows like the hair of healthy children.
The scalp becomes like the scalp of a baby. All itching of the scalp is stopped.
Famo brings back the look of health by a softness and lustre beyond words to describe.
Famo Destroys Bacilli
Famo removes the obstacle to growth, when it kills the seborrhea (dandruff) bacilli.
Freed from the bondage of disease, the hair leaps into luxuriance. In women the change is wonderful. If their hair was normally beautiful, the beauty is intensified.
Dr. Howard Always Recommended Oxidaze for Coughs Colds, Br. Asthma
Years of study and observation convinced him it would safely, quickly and surely stop a bad cough and give instant relief in Bronchial Asthma. Money back if it fails. Guaranteed harmless. At all druggists. Lowell Pharmacy can supply you.
Famo Contains No Alcohol
The natural color is enhanced and grayness is retarded. Famo contains no alcohol.
Alcohol, if used persistently, is harmful to the hair, as it dries the scalp and hair.
Famo comes in two sizes—a small size for 35 cents and an extra large size at $1. Your money back if it doesn't satisfy. Every member of the family should use it.
Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the better barber shops.
Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean exudate forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

CARING FOR DISABLED WAR HEROES

BY GEORGE B. WATERS
WASHINGTON, D. C.—The people of America may be sure that the disabled soldiers will be given the best care possible.

There are 250,000 wounded veterans. About 50,000 of these will have to be rehabilitated by vocational training.

About 18 per cent of the 250,000 contracted tuberculosis and they must be given the best cures possible and most of them are being given open-air treatment.

During the war between 35,000 and 40,000 men were discharged on account of insanity. Most of these are in asylums, and little can be done for them, except to keep them in institutions, make them as comfortable as possible, and they will be treated as "totally disabled" and will have access to their benefit whatever compensation is provided in such cases.

On November 1, 15,527 men were receiving vocational training, and 31,737 men had been recommended for such training by district vocational officers. The reason all of them haven't actually been put into schools is because they are in hospitals. There are 3000 men who were discharged from hospitals whom the Federal Board for Vocational Education would like to find. They were allowed to go home during the confusion that followed the armistice. All mayors and county judges have been asked to look out for them, and the men are requested to communicate with the board.

The vocational board is spending $1,000,000 a month in compensation and maintenance for the disabled. Congress has appropriated $23,000,000 to date for rehabilitation and another $15,000,000 will be forthcoming to run the work till June 30. The board has asked for $38,750,000 for this service from July 1, 1920 to June 30, 1921.

Under the present law men while taking vocational training receive from $50 to $150 a month. The $50 is for a single man. If he has a child he gets $10 additional, and for additional children varying sums are added.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance, of which Col. Cholmley-Jones is director, is supposed to take care of all the disabled not taking vocational training. But under the present law it has authority to pay to persons with total disability only sums ranging from $30 to $85. Single men get $30, a man with wife $45, with wife and child, $55, wife and three or more children, $75 and $10 additional to each sum for each mother or father dependent on the disabled soldier. These sums are inadequate and much complaint has been heard.

But congress is expected to correct this evil soon.

"But you will have some soon?" we asked.
"Maybe, maybe. Can't tell. Come around tomorrow—might be able to give you a pound then."
Next place we tried they referred us to the boss.
"The boss is looking after the sugar now," a blonde young woman informed us.
So we called on the boss.
"Young man," he said, "there's no sugar in town. Don't know when there will be."
We got up enough courage here, to

...but where he figured all the sugar was.
"Don't ask me," he came right back. "I haven't any. Somebody's hoarded it all up, I guess."
Tried another place—nothing like trying, you know.
"Only sell sugar to our regular customers," the clerk told us.
"You have some then?" we casually inquired.
"Very little, very little. And we must look after our regular customers first, of course."
Did we get discouraged? Not us. We tripped nonchalantly into another grocer's establishment.
"About some sugar—" we began in a slightly subdued tone.
"Well, I might let you have a little," hazarded the proprietor, casting a cautious glance about the store.
"Now, if you want to buy about $2 worth of groceries I guess I can let you have a pound?"
We didn't stop there, either.
Yes, we had the $2. But we didn't need the groceries just then.
"Maybe we'll have some next week," greeted our next attempt. "Call around about Monday; I hear there's some on the way."
"We have some real nice brown sugar," said the next man. "Like to try some?"
"No," we replied, emphatically.
Reason we refused was that we tried brown sugar in our coffee, rather morning.
We never will again, though.
"Prohibition's to blame," said another man, after he had gently but firmly refused our modest little request.
"If we didn't have prohibition there'd be lots of sugar."
"How do you figure that out?" we wanted to know.
"Very simple, young man. Everybody's drinking soft drinks now. Takes lots more sugar. Soft drink manufacturers have used it all up."
Well, we didn't get any sugar.
We did hear of one bird that's got five pounds in his safe.
And we know just where he lives, too.
But we're not saying anything about that.

ARMISTICE DAY

ANNIVERSARY BALL

Members of Lowell post of the American Legion played hosts to hundreds of their friends at Associate hall Monday evening when the first anniversary of Armistice day was celebrated with a pretentious social and ball. It was the first social affair of the former service men as a body and the dance floor and balconies literally were packed with Lowell people who wished to celebrate the momentous events of one year ago. The hall was beautifully decorated with bunting of red, white and blue, while colored streamers stretched from the balcony rail to a point just above the centre cluster of lights. Like the spreading feathers of a peacock, the flags of the allied powers formed a striking centre piece almost at the roof of the hall. The flag fell in rich folds above the stage and the bare woodwork of the gallery and side walls was hidden with gold and white draperies. The whole decorative scheme was stunning in its artistic effect and unquestionably created a patriotic feeling entirely in harmony with the spirit of the day.

Rachelder's Overseas orchestra played glorious music from 8 o'clock until the small hours of the morning. It was the sort of music which demanded recognition and a crowded floor gave evidence of the appreciation of the dancers. George "Babe" Rogers was heard to advantage in cabaret selections at intervals during the program.

The dance committee of the post included Commander Walter Scannell, William Looney, Thomas Gargan, John O'Grady and David McEllan. The proceeds will greatly swell the legion's treasury, while the attractive souvenir dance programs distributed were filled with local advertisements of wide variety.

Keep The System Clean And You'll Be Healthy

Elimination helps to avoid colds, headaches and epidemics

ANYONE who has watched himself knows there is nothing so important to health and comfort as regular daily elimination. Half of the minor illnesses of life are due to neglect of this. The five million men who were in our army know the importance the doctor attached to this function.

By all means try to regulate yourself by intelligent diet and exercise, but when these fail you will need a laxative, one as near to nature in its action as skill can make it. In the opinion of many thousands of good Americans such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts promptly, gently and without griping and will with certainty regulate any tendency to constipation that you may have.

Take it when you feel drowsy, dizzy or bilious, when you feel a cold or a fever coming on, when there is an epidemic, when you have eaten anything about which you are in doubt. It is at such times that you need to be free of poisons and of fermenting foods. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for 50c and $1 a bottle. Thousands of families have it constantly in the house against emergencies.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 311 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN THE PERFECT LAXATIVE

SPARKS MAKES GAIN OF SEVEN VOTES

Hon. John T. Sparks, who opposed Frank H. Putnam for election as senator from the eighth Middlesex district and who was defeated by 136 votes, according to the returns, made a net gain of seven votes as the result of a recount in four local wards held yesterday. The figures in wards 3, 4, 5 and 7 were gone over.

Both Mr. Sparks and Mr. Putnam gained votes inasmuch as it was found that a number of supposed blanks in these wards were really not blanks at all. Mr. Sparks' total gain was 24 and Mr. Putnam's 17. This changes the final figures from Putnam, 7476; Sparks, 7340, to Putnam, 7493; Sparks, 7357. Mr. Putnam's margin of victory is reduced from 136 to 129.

This evening a recount will be held

BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did
For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio. "I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I have four in my family, it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1 Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering from its ailments, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, sideache, headache, nervousness or "the blues" could not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a try.

In the town of Chelmsford of the ballots cast for senator.

The ballots in wards 4 and 6 were recounted yesterday forenoon by the registrars and those in wards 3 and 7 in the afternoon. Both Mr. Sparks and Mr. Putnam were present as were Walter Guyette, assisting Mr. Sparks and Edmund Cheney, assisting Mr. Putnam. A total of 7000 ballots were gone over in the recount.

Following is a comparison of the original vote and the recount vote in the four wards:

MEMORIAL MASSES OF REQUIEM

CELEBRATED FOR SOLDIER AND SAILOR HEROES

As part of the tribute of remembrance which the residents of the South End wished paid to their soldier and sailor heroes of the world war, memorial masses of requiem were celebrated in three South End churches yesterday. Masses were held at St. Peter's, the Sacred Heart and St. Anthony's churches.

Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., the pastor, celebrated the mass at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. He was assisted by Rev. Francis L. Shea as deacon, and Rev. Peter Linehan as sub-deacon. A large congregation, including the relatives of many service men of the parish, was present. Rev. Dr. Keleher spoke briefly on the significance of the occasion.

Rev. T. F. O'Brien, O.M.I., celebrated the high mass at the Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock and he was assisted by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., as sub-deacon.

Right Rev. Bishop da Silva celebrated the memorial mass at St. Anthony's church and paid a tribute to the soldier and sailor veterans of the parish.

HELD EXERCISES IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was the principal speaker at Armistice day exercises held by students of the Lowell evening high school Monday evening in the school hall. Following the formal exercises the floor was cleared for dancing and a "Ladies' orchestra" furnished music for a dozen or more numbers.

Henry H. Harris, principal of the evening high school opened the exercises by the reading of Governor Coolidge's Armistice day proclamation and he then introduced the mayor. The latter spoke of the necessity and importance of religion and education in determining the future progress of the world and said that if people sought education not for selfish ends but for the purpose of helping their fellow

STABBING AFFRAY IN CHAPEL STREET

Lowell police are searching today for a man who yesterday evening stabbed Antonio Tell, 32 Howard st., across the forehead with a razor and succeeded in making an escape. The fracas took place on Chapel street, and Tell was unable to furnish the police with his assailant's name. Tell is now at St. John's hospital where it was said today that his wound is probably not serious. He gives no reason for the stabbing claiming that his opponent was a total stranger to him.

This Is Worth Reading

Thousands have been relieved of Indigestion, Stomach and Liver disorders by SEVEN BARKS; the following extracts from testimonials voluntarily given, prove our assertion. For the past 20 years SEVEN BARKS has saved me many a doctor bill. Have found it a most excellent remedy for indigestion and kidney troubles.—L. A. Ames, Prospect, Maine. For seven years I was troubled with stomach trouble and rheumatism, could get no relief. SEVEN BARKS helped me wonderfully, and I will never be without it. In fact, it is a doctor in itself. Since using SEVEN BARKS I eat well, sleep well and feel like a new person.—Mrs. Mary E. Sturgeon, Sheldon Springs, Vt. I have used SEVEN BARKS and it cured me of a very bad case of Constipation, and Indigestion. I was all run down, had no strength, could hardly go out doors, etc. your SEVEN BARKS did me more good than anything I ever tried; it's a good standby and I can heartily recommend it.—Edward Upham, Lynn, Mass. What SEVEN BARKS has done for others, it will do for you. War sale for druggists, 50 cents per bottle. Don't neglect to try it.—Adv.

Americans to Quit Peace Conference

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The American delegation to the peace conference has informed the supreme council of its intention to leave France during the first days of December, according to semi-official information from the French foreign office. The British peace delegation has also expressed the same desire and the general impression in French circles is that the conference will conclude its work by the end of this month.

CO. K OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Members of Co. K of the old Six Massachusetts militia, who a year ago were serving with various units with the A.E.F. in France and Belgium, met at the Community club last night and celebrated the first anniversary of Armistice day, the day on which the eyes of all American soldiers turned toward home. Seventy-two members of the old company were present, with relatives and friends and they made the occasion one of lasting memory. Many letters were received from other comrades who could not be present and they all voiced sincere regret at their inability to join in the celebration.

The evening's program included a splendid dinner, several excellent speakers, general sociability and general dancing in the assembly hall of the club. Capt. James M. Greig, who was the commanding officer of Company K before it lost its identity in the whirlpool of reorganization, was the toastmaster at the dinner. He presided tactfully and with rare grace, particularly when he asked for a minute's silence in memory of those of the outfit who made the supreme sacrifice in the field.

The management of the Community club restaurant served the dinner, which was entirely satisfying and well prepared. Gardner W. Pearson and Benjamin S. Poussner were the speakers and each received cordial greetings. Inspirations of Charlie Chaplin were given by a young man from Ayer, who served in France with the Rainbow division, after which dancing commenced and continued until a late hour.

The officers of the association, who had charge of the program were: Ed B. Hart, president; Edward J. McNery, vice president; Thomas C. Bodkin, secretary, and Williston Carl, treasurer.

MOY GETS AWARD OVER SIMILER IN FINE BOUT

Eddie Moy of Allentown, Pa., won the decision over Chick Similer, of Buffalo, N. Y., in a fast 12-round bout at the Crescent A. A. last night.

The contest was fast, clean, and aggressive from start to finish and was pronounced one of the best ever staged here. Both boxers were in excellent condition and needed to be for the battle was strenuous throughout, and each landed and took many heavy blows. There was not a dull moment during the entire thirty-six minutes and the big holiday crowd greatly enjoyed the efforts of the boxers.

Moy proved the better boxer, showing remarkable ability at long range work. He worked his left with telling effect, and by way of variation often crossed with the right with stinging blows to the body. His footwork, too, was a treat to look upon. Similer also showed much cleverness, but his principal asset was his jabbing, which times he got by Moy's left and when inside battled away with good results. Several times he let go terrific uppercuts, but Moy's speed and agility, enabled the Allentown wizard to avoid contact.

Moy opened up a slight wound over Similer's eye in the early part of the bout, but this did not seem to bother the Buffalo lad. He kept wading in all the way. The bout was fairly even up until the last three rounds. Then Moy came to the front and his great work in the closing rounds brought him a well earned decision. Referee Moore pointed to Moy and the award met with unanimous favor. Both boys were ring and vigorous applause.

Joe Belmont and Young O'Brien met in the first bout and it went the distance, six rounds, to a draw. It was a regular slambang number, with both boys fighting hard all the way. In several rounds the going was so strenuous that the boxers' failed to hear the gong and they kept fighting till the referee intervened. It was a good bout.

In the second preliminary, Buddy Lane, after being dropped in the first and held his opponent even in the second, then sent him down for the count in the third. Lane showed a willingness to mix things and the bout was red hot while it lasted. The first round was a hummer and just before the bell rang, Lane was sent to the canvas. He jumped to his feet as the round ended. The second round was fast and exciting with both showing aggressiveness. Shortly after the third opened Lane let go a haymaker that found its objective, and Parks went down as Referee Gardner tolled the fatal ten.

Jack Murphy, of Boston, who was scheduled to meet Young Drew of Lawrence in the semi-final fight, was not available, the bout was called off.

Paul Doyle, who defeated Walter Butler in four rounds at Salem last night, came right to Lowell and was introduced between the 11th and 12 rounds as a challenger of the winner.

Billy Gardner, of this city, who was once one of the top notch boxers of his class, has been appointed club referee. He officiated in last night's bouts.

It was announced that Young Northey and Johnny (Young) Avila, both of Lowell, have been matched to meet here on Thanksgiving day.

Harry Carlson and Frankie Brown, after agreeing that if both men were on their feet at the end of their 12 round bout at Marlboro last night, went the distance with the even-Siephen result.

Woonsocket Joe Gibbs won from Red Gardner of New York in 10 rounds at Boston last night. Joe Gibbs of the Navy emulated his Woonsocket name by winning a decision over Ed Gorinan of New York in 10 rounds.

GAME IS FORFEITED

Lawrence Quits Floor When Penalized—Referee Gives Game to Lowell, 3 to 0

Lowell won over the rival Lawrence team by forfeit yesterday afternoon before a crowd that packed Crescent rink. The score was 3 to 0.

The forfeiture came in the second period after 7 minutes and 38 seconds of play with the score one to one at the time. After wrangling for about a half hour, the teams returned to the floor. Lawrence without Dufresne and Lowell without Griffith and the three periods were finished as an exhibition with the count 3 to 1 in favor of Lawrence.

The game, however, according to Referee Carroll, ended when the Lawrence players quit the floor in the second period and his decision of forfeiture, he says, will stand. Lawrence, however, filed a protest and the league officials will meet next Sunday to act on the case.

But if the league is to survive and if discipline is to be maintained the only action of the officers will be to uphold the referee. He showed excellent judgment in handling the game and gave the Lawrence players every chance to resume play. If the officials tolerate that spirit of "I don't get my way, I won't play" as exemplified by Capt. Dufresne, they might just as well fold their tents and quit.

Dufresne's exhibition of hot-headedness and baby play was the worst seen here since the return of polo three years ago. He had a chip on his shoulder all the time and when the referee rightfully penalized one of his players for throwing a Lowell player to the floor he jumped at the official and announced that if the decision stood he would not play. The referee refused to change his finding and ordered Dufresne off the floor. Instead of adding by the ruling, Dufresne, called his entire team to the dressing room.

The fans were justifiably disgusted with the action of the Lawrence captain and voiced their disapproval in no uncertain manner. Finally after a conference between Sec. O'Gorman of the Lawrence team and Owner Moore of the Lowell team, the players resumed play with the result above described.

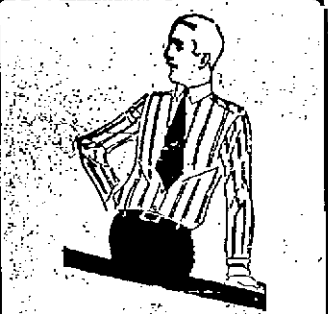

Up to the time of the forfeit the game was a red hot exhibition, with honors even. Lawrence had scored one in the first period, after over 12 minutes of play. Bill Duggan was the scorer. In the second period Freddie Harkins landed one for Lowell. Then Duggan landed one in for Lawrence. Shortly after this score and with Lawrence having previously committed two fouls, Ryan hurled Davies to the floor and the referee called a foul, making three and lopping a goal for Lawrence. This tied the game. Here the argument arose which brought about the forfeiture.

In resuming play for exhibitional purposes, the remainder of the second period was played without a score. Then in the third session Lawrence got four goals, three by Duggan and one by Lincoln. The lineup, score and summary of the game as played, but which will not go into the records follows:

| LOWELL | LAWRENCE |
|------------------|------------|
| Davies 1r | 1r Duggan |
| Barking 2r | 2r Lincoln |
| Griffith c | c Dufresne |
| O'Brien b | b Ryan |
| Pence g | g Blount |
| Won by | Time |
| Lawrence Duggan | 12:30 |
| Lowell Harkins | 3:33 |
| Lawrence Duggan | 10:03 |
| Lawrence Lincoln | 3:01 |
| Lawrence Lincoln | 5:01 |
| Lawrence Duggan | 4:57 |
| Lawrence Duggan | 1:34 |

Summary—Score: Lawrence 5, Lowell 3. Rushes: Duggan 7, Davies 3, Stops: Blount 4, Pence 3, Fouls: Dufresne, Ryan, Duggan, Griffith. Lawrence lost one goal on fouls. Referee: Carroll.

POLO NOTES

Lawrence comes here again on Friday night. Get your tickets early.

Duke Dufresne is a good polo player. He wants to be. Yesterday being a holiday he evidently blew himself to a "baby sick." He acted like a great big kid.

Referee Carroll showed excellent judgment, but made a mistake of not making an announcement of his finding when play was resumed. Some thought he reversed his earlier decision of forfeiture. He didn't, but decided the game to continue as an exhibition.

When Griffith went off the floor as a result of Dufresne's eviction the Lowell team was lost. "Griff" is an important "cog" in the combination.

Bill Duggan is a great player and a fine fellow. He plays polo all the way and friend and foe admire him for it. Too bad the Lawrence management relieved him of the captaincy.

HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN SWAMPS VOCATIONAL

Pulling all of its tricks out of the bag for the first time this season the Lowell high school football eleven swamped the vocational school team at Spalding park on Armistice day morning by the score of 65 to 0.

Even with second and third string men in the front line and backfield the high school attack was merciless against the weaker and inexperienced foe and touchdowns rolled up the score throughout all four periods. Too much anxiety cost high school three more touchdowns, the ball being carried back twice because of off-side play. In each instance the man carrying the ball had passed across the goal line.

Big Variety of Plays

Lowell scored in almost every conceivable manner, by straight line-splitting plays, by end runs, by spinning slips of the tackles, by forward passes, by run backs of punts and by picking up loose balls after Vocational fumbles.

From the standpoint of the spectators, and there were a few such, the game soon became somewhat uninteresting, but it was a fine workout for the team and a happy session for Coach Conway who sent the boys in to try everything once and to get all the practice possible in forming interference and putting opponents out of plays.

Never Stopped Trying

Throughout the game Vocational made first down only once. The team played courageously against tremendous odds and never gave up trying to make some impression on the heavy-lidded high school line.

On the three times the line crumpled like paper before the high school line, the Vocational team dizzily chasing the wrong man.

Right Under the Gun

The game hadn't been under way for two minutes before a Vocational fumble was recovered by high school. Trull got 12 yards through the line and O'Hare slipped off right tackle and O'Hare made the high school play. The half ended with Lowell on the long end of 33 to 0.

Substitutes flocked out from the high school bench at the opening of the second half. O'Hare made the high school total 45 and Cahill added another point on the goal from touchdown. O'Hare then took a Vocational school punt and side-stepped his zig-zagging way through the opposing team for the eighth score of the game. Cahill again booted the goal.

The Finale

The first touchdown of the fourth period also went to O'Hare and then Cahill varied his kicking around the left end for the last touchdown of the game. The score was made on the extreme side of the field and although O'Hare's punt was good the man receiving it failed to heel the catch and try at goal was lost.

Walter Cox Signs Three-year Contract for $20,000 Per Year

New England lost one of its best and fastest pacers a day or two ago, when John Hildrough of Lancashire, England, bought the handsome stallion, Frank Dewey, from the late owner, Walter Cox, of Boston.

The deal for Frank had been pending several days. Hildrough, accompanied by a few friends, went up to Walter Cox's headquarters, where he was looking over the pacer. Frank made the journey over and after the two began to talk business it did not take them long to come to terms.

Frank Dewey is one of the best pacers ever bred in New England. John Hildrough of Lancashire, England, who received his early education at the University of Cambridge, has been in the United States for several years and has been in the United States for several years and has been in the United States for several years.

Cox Gets Big Salary
The biggest and most surprising news of the past week, however, was the announcement of the engagement of Walter Cox to take charge of the training department at Laurel Hill, Stoughton, a Fletcher's breeding farm near Indianapolis. Hildrough and acquaintances of the New Hampshire trainer could not believe the story at first, for few could understand why a man would leave his native home after spending more than 30 years in the very shadow of his birthplace.

It will make the more so, it is appropriate to use in the case at hand, however, for "Walt" has signed a three-year contract which calls for an annual salary of $20,000, the highest figure ever paid for the services of a trainer for trotting horses. Consequently, nobody has any ground for blaming the old Yankee for making the move, but, on the other hand, all are anxious to congratulate him on his success and wish him the best of luck in old Indiana.

Granite State Park, for the past 12 years Cox's training place, is on the Cox company, a corporation with Cox as president, and the property of W. R. and several patrons as the stockholders. Gossip had it the latter part of last week that the lowly trainer, Ed Allen, who visited Dover just after the close of the grand circuit, was planning to move there, but that is considered very unlikely.

Takes Along Old Employees
Cox will take several of his old employees along with him to Indiana. Years ago he was with him. Burdell leaves next week for Laurel Hill and the other boys will follow later.

At least 25 head of horses now at Granite State Park will be consigned to the Old Glory Sale, to be held in Madison Square Garden the latter part of this month. The lowly trainer, Ed Allen, Trask, 2013, and others will be in reserve, of course, and the stallion is destined to do stud duty at one of the leading stock farms.

Many friends and patrons spent yesterday with the New Hampshire trainer, and from now until the time comes for him to leave for Indiana, which probably will be some time in December, his legion of friends who have been accustomed to while away a few days at intervals during the winter and spring seasons will make one more visit to hospitable Granite State Park to wish their friend the best of luck at Laurel Hill.

LOWELL BOWLERS STAGE MANY CONTESTS

Lowell bowlers were active about the city last evening and several red hot contests drew their quota of fans to the local alleys. The Matthews, Clan Grant, Waterhead mills, and Baran church leagues staged some zesty clashes, and the Mysteries, Mohawks, Fairviews and Salem A.C. Aves were also in action. The scores:

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 50c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

LOWELL BOYS WIN AT FITCHBURG

Three Lowell boys appeared in an all star boxing show at Fitchburg yesterday afternoon. Frank Molins won from Tim Murphy in the final round which went eight rounds. Molins led all the way. Tommy Fall and Young Nee met in another tight round number which went the limit to a decision for Fall. Tim Quinn did not fare as well as the other Lowellites for he was defeated by Sergt. Swanson in two rounds.

Prior to the Lowell high-Vocational school game at Spaulding park yesterday morning, the crack teams of the Edson and Butler grammar schools met in a battle royal, which ended in a victory for the Butler lads, 3 to 0. The good right toe of Halfback Horgan lifted a drop kick over the cross bar from the 20-yard line late in the second period for the only score of the game. For the most part the contest was give and take with but little to

TESTED BEAN RECIPES

Legumes Are Hearty and Nourishing—Good Substitute for Meat

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Beans, though higher in price than they were several years ago, are still among the cheaper foods that can be bought today. They are one of the cheapest sources of protein and may be used to help supply this valuable food constituent in the diet, according to United States department of agriculture specialists. They are known chiefly as a meat substitute. A cup of baked beans, in which a third of a cup of dried beans is used, furnishes as much protein as a quarter of a pound of sirloin steak. Obviously the third of a cup of dried beans is much the cheaper to purchase. A pound of beef as purchased usually has some refuse in the form of skin, bone and gristle, while a pound of beans has practically no refuse. From this standpoint, therefore, as well as the difference in price, the housewife who finds her food allowance growing low will do well to use beans often in place of meat.

The cheaper legumes, beans, peas, etc., should not be depended upon as the sole source of protein for a great length of time. Milk, cheese, eggs, or meat should furnish some of the protein in a week's dietary.

There is little difference in food value among the many common varieties of beans, with the exception of the soy bean, which is richer in protein and in fat than the ordinary beans. All legumes should be thoroughly cooked. Long cooking at moderate heat is best.

Baked Beans

A favorite and standard recipe for baking beans is the following: Soak the beans overnight, then rinse and boil them until the skins crack when blown upon, but the beans are not quite soft. Use one-half pound of salt pork to one quart of beans. Cut the pork nearly through the rind and add before boiling the beans. After boiling, pour into the bean pot, insert the pork, the cut rind being level with the top of the beans. Add a pint of the water used for boiling, having first mixed with the water a teaspoon of salt and two tablespoons of molasses. The water should come about to the surface of the contents. Bake six to eight hours, adding more water when needed to prevent the top drying or burning. Beans, when done, should be thoroughly softened, but not mushy, and should retain their shape.

Baked Bean Croquettes—1 cup baked bean pulp, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon fat, 1/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Melt the fat, stir in the flour, salt and pepper and mix with the cold milk. Cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Combine this with the beans to which the onion juice has been added. Let stand for two or three hours; then shape as for croquettes. Roll in bread crumbs, then in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs again. Place them in deep fat and cook until nicely browned. Tomato sauce may be served with these croquettes. A recipe for it follows:

Tomato Sauce—1 cup tomato juice, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 slice onion, 1 tablespoon fat, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

PHOSPHATED IRON MAKES PURE BLOOD AND STRONG NERVES

Red blooded men and women are leaders in every walk of life. Work is a pleasure and they are successful in everything they undertake.

A leading doctor says, "Show me a strong successful man or healthy, happy, rosy-cheeked woman, and they will always have pure blood and steady nerves, loaded with iron and phosphates."

There is no need of anyone going through life with poor blood, sick, miserable, played out, and nervous, when Phosphated Iron will always bring most astonishing and satisfactory results in pure blood and greatly increased energy, health and strength in the body, mind and nerves.

Phosphated Iron cannot fail to put you on the road to health. It often increases the strength and endurance of run-down exhausted folk 100 per cent after only a few days' treatment. Commence today. Do not put off. It will repay you.

Phosphated Iron is put up in capsules only. Do not take inferior pills or tablets. Ask for Phosphated Iron Capsules. For sale by and seasonings. Add the tomato juice and cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Bean Loaf—1 pint cold cooked beans, 1 egg, 1 cup bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons tomato catsup, salt and pepper.

Combine the ingredients and shape into a loaf. Place strips of bacon on top of loaf. Bake 25 minutes. Tomato sauce may be served with this loaf. This loaf should be used in place of meat in the menu and may be served with escalloped tomatoes, or onions, or creamed cauliflower.

Kidney Bean Stew—1/2 cup dried kidney beans, 1 onion, 1 1/2 tablespoons rice, 2 small potatoes (diced), 3 pints water, 3 tomatoes (sliced or quartered), 1 1/2 tablespoons fat.

Soak beans overnight. Add one quart of water and cook until half done. Add the other ingredients and cook slowly until all ingredients are tender. Add more water if necessary.

This dish may be served in place of meat and other cooked vegetables in a meal. A fruit salad or a salad made of green vegetables, such as cucumbers or radishes, may be used in such a menu.

GUARDSMAN KILLED IN BOSTON ROW

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Private William H. Duchaine, 19, Haverhill, a state Guardsman, is dead; Thomas Conroy of 46 Spring street is at the Massachusetts General hospital with a bullet wound in the back; Joseph D. Lauretis, 35, of 25 1/2 Myrtle street is under arrest on a charge of murder, and Joseph McDonough of 65 C street, South Boston, is held as a witness in a result of a shooting at 12.15 yesterday afternoon at the barber shop and pool room conducted by Lauretis at 157 Cambridge street.

As near as can be learned the killing of Duchaine was an accident. He is said to have entered the barber shop and pool room while Lauretis was firing at Conroy and McDonough, and one of the bullets struck him in the neck. He died three minutes after his arrival at the Haymarket square relief hospital.

INTERNAL PAINS DISAPPEARED

MRS. F. CAMIRE

I owe my good health to RED PILLS for pale and weak women. I was suffering from internal disturbances which were brought on by hard work in factories when I was too young to be working at all, and to the little care I had been able to get. I had become excessively weak. I had been in bed for two months, and was suffering a great deal. People who saw me at that time are now astonished to see me so well, for everyone had considered my case to be hopeless.

MRS. F. CAMIRE, 213, 3rd Avenue, Woonsocket, R.I.

RED PILLS are for women only. They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

NATURALIZATION CLASS

Lowell men who are interested in the subject of naturalization will have an opportunity to have questions regarding this topic answered this evening when there will be one of a series of naturalization classes at the Green school at 1.30 o'clock. These classes are being conducted under the direction of Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools and either he or one of the grammar school masters is present at every session. The meetings are held every Wednesday evening and afford

of men; dropped mortally wounded. Arthur McElfresh, marching in the ranks, was killed instantly. Ben Casagrande died later from his wounds. John Earl Watt, George Stevens, Jacob Plitzer and E. Eubanks also fell wounded, the first named probably fatally. Stevens was shot when he attempted to disarm an I.W.W. standing on the street.
The fourth death of a parader was added when Dale Hubbard, an overseas veteran, gathered a small band and started after the I.W.W. secretary. Hubbard and the fugitive grappled after a chase in which Smith fired repeatedly at his pursuers. As they clinched, Hubbard received four wounds in the body.
Smith Hanged; Body Riddled
Another pursuer overpowered Smith and he was taken to jail. Later he was removed and hanged after citizens learned that four of the former soldiers had died. An attempt to lynch Smith had been made before he was lodged in the jail.
"You fellows can't hang me," he said. "I was sent to do my duty and I did it."
Smith was tossed from a bridge over the Chehalis river after a rope was tied about his neck and a volley of bullets sent into his body. The lynching party worked silently and in darkness while taking him from the jail. At 7.30 o'clock, all the city's electric lights were cut off and eight men easily overcame the one man on guard inside the jail. Smith was placed in one of about six darkened automobiles that stood about the jail, and rushed to the bridge.
To Drive Out All Radicals
Little was known of Smith. He came here a short time ago.
Two undertakers refused to handle the body, and what disposal would be made of it was not known.
Citizens today planned to drive all radicals from Centralia where they have been increasing for some time and operating into the logging camps and other industrial centers. American Legion members declared every I.W.W. must leave the city.
Planned to "Get" Ex-Soldiers
One of 20 men arrested in the raids following the attack on the parade was said to have confessed that plans "had been made months ago to 'get' Warren Grimm and Arthur McElfresh, two of those killed and William Schales and Capt. David Livingston." The four had been active in suppressing radical activities in this community.
The Centralia police consist of only five paid members and they were powerless in the face of the great odds against them, both in combatting the I.W.W. and in defending Smith before he was hanged. Members of the legion assisted them in patrolling and in guarding the jail.
Eye-Witness Account of Attack
One eye-witness account of the attack on the marchers was that it came just as the head of the line slowed down to "mark time" in front of the I.W.W. headquarters to permit the rest of the column to make up distance. From the roof and windows of the I.W.W. headquarters and buildings across the street and from pedestrians volleys of bullets sprayed the halted ranks.

Men came running from different exits of the I.W.W. hall.
Secretary Smith fled from a rear entrance, firing an automatic. His weapon "jammed," but he restored it to working condition and continued to fire until he was overtaken and disarmed.
Legion to Combat Radicalism
Clashes between the I.W.W. and Centralia citizens have occurred at intervals during the past two years. The first trouble occurred when a radical spoke against a Red Cross bazaar. At that time a crowd removed all furniture from the I.W.W. hall and burned it in the street.
Gov. Hart today was en route to the capital from the eastern part of the state. His only statement was "there will be no mob rule at Centralia."
The request that troops be sent to Centralia was followed by a cancellation from the prosecuting attorney, but it was not sent in time to halt departure from Tacoma of a company of 75 state militiamen.
From Yakima today came a report that members of the American Legion there were discussing formation of a secret order within the legion designed to combat radicalism.

Are a Harmless Substitute
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.
They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

place. Large quantities of radical literature, red flags and furniture were burned in the streets by the mob. The mob was said to have consisted of 400 former service men and members of the American Legion.
The offices of the World, a socialist organ situated in the building, also was wrecked.
The communist labor party is said to be a new radical organization here. The wrecking of the committee's headquarters was carried out in methodical fashion and with such swiftness that by the time the police arrived on the scene the crowd had dispersed and none could be identified as having been connected with the raid.
As soon as reports of the Centralia trouble reached here, Chief of Police Jennings summoned all available patrolmen to be held in reserve. Agents of the police sent to the meeting of the council reported the speeches were

COAL STRIKE IS CALLED OFF

Some Miners Dispute Authority of Order Issued by Acting President Lewis

Original Demands Will be Presented to Operators at Friday's Session

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 12.—Original demands of a 60 per cent increase in wages, a six hour day and a five day week, will be presented to operators by mine workers in the joint scale conference called for Friday in Washington at the instance of Secretary of Labor Wilson, according to Frank Farrington, chairman of the miners' scale committee, who came here today, en route to the national capital.

Returning to Work
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Resumption of work in the country's bituminous coal mines today was expected to be extensive but not on a scale that would permit anything like normal production, according to statements of United Mine Workers of America leaders and coal mine operators. I. W. W. TO LAUNCH A PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 12.—Industrial Workers of the World are preparing to launch from their headquarters here a propaganda campaign throughout the northwest and perhaps through the entire west, in the near future, according to officials of the department of justice. So far they have received no order to proceed against them.

TRYING TO SETTLE MOLDERS' STRIKE

Representatives of the local molders' union and foundry employers made another attempt at settling the molders' strike which has been in operation in this city since last May when they met at city hall today before Bernard F. Supple of the state board of arbitration and conciliation. Last Monday a similar attempt was made and while some progress was noted, nothing definite was decided. The same held true of today's conference up until 3.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The conference met in the mayor's reception room at 10 o'clock this morning and were in session for two hours and a half. At 2 o'clock they met again and at the time of going to press a settlement had not been reached. At the request of Patrick Ryan, one of the employing foundrymen, newspaper representatives were barred from today's sessions.

PRINTING TAX BOOKS
The office of the board of assessors at city hall has been besieged during the last few weeks with requests as to when this year's tax books will be available. The books are now in the hands of the printers, but the assessors say that it is doubtful if they will be ready for distribution before December 1. As soon as they are available the public will be notified.

Cannot Enforce War Time Dry Act; Sell 4 Per Cent Beer in Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—Judge Arthur L. Brown in the United States district court here today, issued a temporary injunction against Harvey A. Baker, United States attorney and George F. O'Shaughnessy, collector of internal revenue, restraining them from enforcing the provisions of the war-time prohibition act. The injunction was issued upon the petition of the Narragansett Brewing Co. The sale of four per cent beer was immediately resumed by Providence liquor dealers.

The action was taken on petition of three of the largest breweries of this state, who sought to prevent the federal authorities from prosecuting them for the manufacture and sale of 4 per cent malt beverages.

The court in handing down its decision said: "In view of the probability that the act in question will ultimately be held unconstitutional and of the irreparable damage that would result from its immediate enforcement, and as in view of the evidence afforded by the presidential proclamations and other circumstances its immediate enforcement is not imperative, I am convinced that the plaintiffs' right to a preliminary injunction is clear."

The decree will be entered tomorrow when it will become effective.

The opinion is the first construction of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act handed down by any court in the country. While nominally it restrains the federal officials in this jurisdiction from enforcing title one of that act against the Narragansett Brewing company, it virtually states the belief of the court that the entire war-time prohibition act is unconstitutional and cannot be enforced.

TAKES DRASTIC ACTION

Street Railway Co. Will Cease Operation in Lawrence Unless Jitneys Go

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway company, through its publicity agent, Fred Cummings, today served notice upon Mayor Hurley of the neighboring city of Lawrence that unless all jitneys are withdrawn from the streets of that city on or before November 26, the street car company will discontinue all city lines and probably all suburban lines running into the city proper.

Whether or not this would affect the Lowell-Lawrence line is not known, but in case the ultimatum was sweeping enough to include all suburban lines, the trolley traffic between the two cities would be among the ones to be abandoned.

Eastern Massachusetts officials said this morning that the notice has been served because of the failure of the city of Lawrence to properly regulate its jitney traffic. It is said that a $2 license fee is the only bond required from a man who wishes to carry passengers within the city limits. Lawrence did not receive a reduction in fare according to other cities a few weeks ago and company officers say that the loose jitney ordinance was the reason.

No such ultimatum could be given to Lowell because $5000 the bond required in the jitney ordinance has kept the streets of this city free of such vehicles for several years.

In North Chelmsford, however, a similar condition to that in Lawrence exists. Notice has been served upon that town that unless it properly regulates its jitneys, car service between the North Village and Tyngsboro, will be abandoned and possibly the town will be cut off altogether as the company has intended that it will run cars only to the city line. A special town meeting will be held in Chelmsford soon to take action on the question.

There will be a regular meeting of Lowell Council, No. 72, Knights of Columbus, tomorrow (Thursday) evening, Nov. 13th, at 8 o'clock sharp. The lecturer will present an interesting program at the close of the regular meeting. Every member is expected to attend.

PRICES BREAK WITH CRASH

Call Money Rises to 30 Per Cent., Highest Rate Since Panic of 1907

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Prices in the stock market broke with a crash at 3.30 o'clock today. No group in the list was spared. General Motors fell below 300 and Crucible Steel dropped to 212½.

Brokers reported it was almost impossible to borrow money at any price, as a result, stocks were thrown overboard for whatever they would bring. Rails held up fairly well, but they had not shared in the rapid advance of industrials during the year.

The market became completely demoralized in the last hour, when call money rose to 30 per cent., the highest rate since the panic of 1907. Overnight losses of 10 to 25 points were scattered throughout the list and General Motors showed a decline of 55 points.

MANSLAUGHTER CASES IN POLICE COURT

On the charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of four-year-old Dorothy Lyon of West Andover, who was fatally injured by an automobile in Merrimack square, October 7, Percy D. Smith of Methuen, alleged by the police to be the driver of the car which killed the girl, was arraigned on continuance in police court today and a further continuance ordered until December 10 to await the result of the inquest now being held on the accident. Smith has pleaded not guilty and furnished bail of $7000.

Another manslaughter case scheduled to be called today was continued until November 25, the inquest report not being completed. This is the case against Charles L. Bond, of Boston, the Harvard student who is alleged to have been the driver of the auto which struck and fatally injured Joseph Zanoni, 13 North street, as the boy was crossing over Lawrence street on the afternoon of October 13. He has also furnished bail.

Other Offenders
Michael Alexander, found guilty of assault and battery on John Clark last Sunday afternoon, was ordered to pay the costs of the trial.

Alleged to have been hunting without a certificate of registration, Arthur E. Austin had his case continued until November 15. He pleaded not guilty.

MUST INCREASE ADV. RATES

Radical Advances Necessary to Hold Back Sluice of Advertising Now Pouring in

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Increased advertising rates and reduction in the size of newspapers were urged today by Franklin P. Glass, of Birmingham, Ala., president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, at a special meeting here to consider the news print shortage.

Every paper, he said, should agree to cut down its average number of pages, both week-day and Sunday, by a considerable percentage and then hold down its advertising volume to a fixed number of pages. This will probably necessitate an arbitrary reduction of at least 33 per cent in volume of business.

"Radical advances should be made in advertising rates. The percentages of increase should be such that they hold back the sluice of advertising that has poured into our offices and bids fair to continue during the next year."

Declaring that English newspapers during the war reduced their size by one-third, but to advanced rates that most of them earned more than before the war, Mr. Glass said:

"It is plain that proper restriction of advertising space will not work any financial hardship here."

Mr. Glass urged that newspaper publishers seek more harmonious relations with news print manufacturers and in connection with the convention of the American Pulp and Paper Association which is meeting simultaneously in the same hotel, urged that conferences be inaugurated to see "if some fair, broad-minded policy of doing business cannot be devised."

To increase the manufacture of paper, Mr. Glass suggested that the convention urge passage of the water power bill now pending in congress and that an arrangement be made with the Canadian government to bring pulp to the United States without prohibitive restrictions on the Canadian side. He said that a three weeks' tour in the east and Canada, during which he talked with pulp manufacturers and brokers, convinced him that publishers themselves, "are mainly responsible for this wild market and for the shortage." An extraordinary volume of advertising, he said, had resulted in the consumption of surplus stocks.

"If the situation is not met with co-operation and sacrifice," he said, "it is certain that weaker papers will be forced to suspend. The fault is not

WILL VOTE ON LICENSE AT CITY ELECTION

Despite the fact that the federal authorities have passed the national prohibition act, Lowell voters will have another opportunity to express their opinion as to whether this city should be wet or dry in 1920, at the city election, Dec. 9.

According to officials of the city clerk's office, the time-honored question must be included on the ballot at the local election because the Massachusetts statutes require it and the state law has not yet been repealed.

Accordingly, every voter will have an opportunity of marking a cross against "yes" or "no" on the ancient question that used to mean so much in bygone days. But this year "yes" and "no" will mean practically the same as far as relieving the arid tension in 1920 is concerned. But perhaps it will relieve some people's feelings to be able to express their sentiments even though that's as far as it will go. Therefore, one of the issues of the city campaign will be license or no-license just as though there had never been incorporated in the bright lexicon of legislation the word "prohibition."

With the mills. They have maintained a 100 per cent production, perhaps more than normal. We cannot look to them for prompt relief. We must depend on ourselves."

Mr. Glass said newspaper advertising rates always have been too low and an advance of 25 or 30 per cent would not be enough because cost of production had increased 100 per cent in the last year.

LEGION PARADE FIRED UPON

I. W. W. Blamed for Attack on Marchers in Armistice Day Celebration

Fire From Roofs as War Veterans March—Lynching Follows

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 12.—State troops today patrolled this city where during an armistice day celebration yesterday, four members of the American Legion were shot and killed by men said to be members of the I. W. W. and Britt Smith, secretary of the local branch of the Industrial Workers' hanged by a mob.

The reason for the attack which came as the head of the legion parade swung past I. W. W. headquarters, had not been developed fully, but the authorities said evidence had been obtained that it was premeditated.

Without warning bursts of rifle fire swept the ranks of marching veterans as they paraded past I. W. W. headquarters. Bullets came from that building and the roof of a building across the street. Persons in the crowds that lined the street also drew weapons and began firing.

Armed Revolution Against U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The shooting of four ex-service men in Armistice day parade in Centralia, Wash., was described in the house today by Representative Johnson, republican, Wash., chairman of the immigration committee as "an attempt at revolution with bullets and rifles, which the country has long feared." Mr. Johnson sent a telegram to Mayor Rogers of Centralia, saying the country "must be purged of seditious and revolutionists to the last one, and if this means war, the quicker it is declared the better."

To Invoke Cloture Rule in Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—A movement to limit senate debate on the peace treaty by invoking the cloture rule was inaugurated today by democratic leaders. A petition for cloture, requiring but 16 signatures for submission, was circulated by the administration leaders and soon had more than double the necessary number. Some republican leaders said they would support the democratic cloture proposal, which had been circulated after consultation between leaders of both parties.

$36,000 Fire on Food Steamer

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Fire of unknown origin today caused $36,000 damage to the cargo of the steamship Ozaukee, loaded with foodstuffs, clothing and 14 bales of cotton for the Polish relief fund. The ship was tied up at North River pier.

Sen. Martin, Democratic Leader, Dead

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 12.—Senator Thomas S. Martin, the democratic leader in the senate, died here today after an illness of several months. He was 72 years old.

HOME WELCOME

TO SERVICE MEN
A delightful welcome home celebration to its former service men was staged by Lowell herd, No. 19, Benevolent Order of Buffalo, at its quarters in Odd Fellows building, Middlesex st., Monday evening. Entertainment numbers were given by James E. Hughes and President William H. Garvey, and the speakers included John J. Gilbride, John K. Kenney, chairman of the welcome home committee, President Garvey, Past Deputy James E. Hughes and Past Secretary James E. Lylo. During the evening the service flag of the organization was demobilized with special exercises under the direction of Robert M. Dempsey. Refreshments were served.
The service members of the order are John Broadhurst, Joseph Duval, Louis Kalofol, James Thomas, William H. Hogan, Edward Prentiss, John J. McGlinchey, George R. Brown, Peter Gill and John Kenney.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE:
"A Man's Job," a thrilling melodrama of the days just past, signing of the armistice, while all the country joins in celebrating this week, is the offering of the popular Lowell Players at the Opera House this week. The author of the play is none other than John Meehan, leading man of the Lowell company, who has written several stage successes, and it is one to judge from the applause which was awarded it during the initial performance.

ancek; this production is due for a most successful week.
Although essentially a play of the war, the action takes place wholly in the United States. A member of the government war-line service and a German agent are the principal characters, and the film leads the American a merry chase throughout the three acts. And although the hero and the villain make a startling discovery that they are brothers, and both in love with the same girl, the battle of wits goes on just the same. The German agent is a rather cold-blooded sort of fellow, too. One of his employees tells him that he is getting "cold feet" and wants to quit the job. Promptly Mr. Villain gives his faithful co-worker in the service of all the highest a glass of wine containing just the right amount of poison, touches a hidden spring in the wall, and the employee disappears. John Meehan is cast in the leading role, that of the soldier-of-fortune who decides to help Uncle Sam clean the country of German propaganda and his clever and intelligent treatment of the part meets with hearty approval.
William Melville, as the Kaiser's representative, is seen in one of the best parts in which he has appeared. This scene, in which he is treated to a most satisfactory "bad man." Hal Crane, the juvenile man, is also seen to advantage.
Miss Margaret Fields, the popular leading woman, who of course plays the part of "the only girl," also added even more friends by her capable and happy treatment of her role.
Director Kirk's setting and production of "A Man's Job" deserves a special word of commendation. Rarely have Lowell theatregoers been treated to such splendid scenic effects and harmonious color schemes as this capable director displays this week, and these were fully appreciated by those who attended the theatre during the first performance.
Others who are appearing in the play are Charles H. Stevens, Miss Helen Freeburn, Jack Bennett, Marie Maine, Arthur Mack, Jack Kennedy and Director J. Francis Kirk.

THE STRAND THEATRE:
Two excellent photoplays, "The Dragon Painter" and "Please Get Married," head the bill at the Strand theatre for the first three days of the week. The former is a love story, while the latter is a melodrama of high merit. In "The Dragon Painter" is featured Sessue Hayakawa in the title role, while in the other the leading part is being sustained by Viola Dana.
"The Dragon Painter" deals with a wild mountain artist who dreams of some day meeting his "Dragon Princess" in the land of the rising sun and the image based on a beautiful legend of old Japan. The dragon painter lives the primitive life of a wild mountain youth in whose heart burns the mad love of a girl. In his imagination he sees only perfect images when he shall have found his "Dragon Princess," the full realization of his dream. At length he finds his way into the house of Kano, the last of the famous one of famous dragon painters, who conceives the idea of having his daughter impersonate the "Dragon Princess." In order that the genius of the youth may be stimulated and so perpetuate the fame and art of his family. After the marriage the girl finds that the young artist is neglecting his painting because of his thought to please her and leaves him that he may dedicate his life to his work and to appreciate what follows one must see the picture.

"Please Get Married" has to do with a pair of adoring and extremely youthful lovers who embark on a honeymoon in blissful content, while their parents have learned that perhaps they may not have been married at all. The parents set out to overtake them, but the couple reach a mountain hotel ahead of their elders and prepare for the spooning they have waited so long for, when they are the victims of a series of interruptions that are as disconcerting to them as they are mirth-provoking. The play is one of the most enjoyable of its kind presented locally in a long time. The new Vitagraph comedy is also a clever production, while the Universal Weekly shows views on current events that are both instructive and interesting. The musical numbers are also very enjoyable.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD BAZAAR
To raise money for next summer's camping trip, Troop 4, Girl Scouts of the Centralville M. E. church, held a bazaar in the vestry last evening which proved most successful. Entertainment was furnished by Frank Reynolds of Boston, an impersonator of much ability. Mrs. Mary Peters, acting captain of the troop, had general charge of the event and was assisted by the Misses Elsie McBurnie, Emma Jont, Miss Rose Brownstein, secretary, and Miss Ida Carp, treasurer.

MATRIMONIAL
Mr. Albert Carpenter and Miss Cecile Verranaut were married Monday morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's church by Rev. Armand Baron, O.M.I. The witnesses were Messrs. Peter Carpenter, a brother of the bridegroom and Francis Verranaut, father of the bride. The couple will make their home at 251 Salem street.

CANDIDATES OUT IN FULL FORCE

Candidates for mayor and commissioner were out in full force last evening and were heard in all parts of the city. Because of the fact that it was his first appearance since the campaign speaking tournament opened, Jackson Palmer held the centre of the stage. He talked to a gathering of more than 1900 people at Tower's corner and raised the following issues, speaking from the viewpoint of the man who owns a small home worth two or three thousand dollars and covered by an ample mortgage; the father of one or two children, and perhaps the owner of a small car.

He said the first issue is the health, upbuilding and education of the children. The second the family finances, the third the safety and protection of the home, and the fourth the condition of the streets as viewed by the owner of a Ford.

In view of these observations, Mr. Palmer said he would confine himself to the department of health and

A Simple Way to Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arrow-wood from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Call Off Strike

Continued. The miners were expected to dispute the authority of the order issued yesterday by John L. Lewis, acting president of the organization, recalling the strike order in keeping with the direction of a federal court order. The statement of Duncan McDonald, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, that "if the position of the government is to be taken as a precedent, there is no such thing as freedom of contract and the entire issue might as well be fought out now," was interpreted as being the sentiment of a portion of the approximately 425,000 men who went on strike nearly two weeks ago.

It was agreed that many of the miners would return to work, notably in the Alabama, Texas, Ohio and Pennsylvania coal areas. The situation was doubtful in Iowa, Maryland, West Virginia, Indiana, Oklahoma, Illinois and Arkansas.

Headaches Left Her When Blood Became Enriched

Connecticut Resident Testifies to the Benefit She Received From Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

There are many kinds of headache from different causes. If your headache is accompanied by a feeling of weakness, stomach trouble, exhaustion after slight effort, nervousness and dizzy and fainting spells, it is evident that your blood is thin and that you are in need of the tonic which proved so beneficial to Mrs. E. A. Webber, of No. 4 Durham avenue, Middletown, Conn. She says:

"I was generally tired and had no ambition, my blood was thin and I was badly run down. My strength seemed to leave me and at times I thought my heart was affected. I had headaches and lost flesh."

"I had often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills but had never tried them until some friends of mine in Maine, who had been benefited by the pills, recommended them to me. After the first box I began to feel like myself again and gained rapidly in strength. I took another box and the benefit continued. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a fine blood builder and am glad to recommend them."

coal mines of the country were sent out yesterday afternoon under the signatures of Acting Pres. John L. Lewis and Sec. Treas. William Green of the United Mine Workers of America.

Decision to obey the federal court mandate was reached at 4:10 yesterday morning, after more than 17 hours' discussion by the miners' general committee.

At 10 a. m. attorneys for the miners appeared before Judge Anderson and submitted a draft of the order, which the court approved.

"The decision to call off the strike was announced by Mr. Lewis soon after 4 yesterday morning in the following words:

Legion Parade Fired Upon

of men, dropped mortally wounded. Arthur McElfresh, marching in the ranks, was killed instantly. Ben Casagrande died later from his wounds. John Earl Watt, George Stevens, Jacob Pizler and E. Eubanks also fell wounded, the first named probably fatally. Stevens was shot when he attempted to disarm an I.W.W. standing on the street.

The fourth death of a parader was added when Dale Hubbard, an overseas veteran, gathered a small band and started after the I.W.W. secretary. Hubbard and the fugitive grappled after a chase in which Smith fired repeatedly at his pursuers. As they clinched, Hubbard received four wounds in the body.

Smith Hanged; Body Riddled

Another pursuer overpowered Smith and he was taken to jail. Later he was removed and hanged after citizens learned that four of the former soldiers had died. An attempt to lynch Smith had been made before he was lodged in the jail.

"You fellows can't hang me," he said. "I was sent to do my duty and I did it."

Smith was tossed from a bridge over the Chagall river after a rope was tied about his neck and a volley of bullets sent into his body. The lynching party worked silently and in darkness while taking him from the jail. At 7:30 o'clock, all the city's electric lights were cut off and eight men easily overcame the one man on guard inside the jail. Smith was placed in one of about six darkened automobiles that stood about the jail, and rushed to the bridge.

To Drive Out All Radicals

Little was known of Smith. He came here a short time ago.

Two undertakers refused to handle the body, and what disposal would be made of it was not known.

Citizens today planned to drive all radicals from Centalla where they have been increasing for some time and operating in the logging camps and other industrial centers. American Legion members declared every I.W.W. must leave the city.

Planned to "Get" Ex-Soldiers

One of 20 men arrested in the raids following the attack on the parade was said to have confessed that plans "had been made months ago to 'get' Warren Grimm and Arthur McElfresh, two of those killed and William Schales and Capt. David Livingston." The four had been active in suppressing radical activities in this community.

The Centalla police force consists of only five paid members and they were powerless in the face of the great odds against them, both in combatting the I.W.W. and in defending Smith before he was hanged. Members of the legion assisted them in patrolling and in guarding the jail.

Eye-Witness Account of Attack

One eye-witness account of the attack on the marchers was that it came just as the head of the line slowed

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

down to "mark time" in front of the I.W.W. headquarters to permit the rest of the column to make up distance. From the roof and windows of the I.W.W. headquarters and buildings across the street and from pedestrians volleys of bullets sprayed the halted ranks.

Men came running from different exits of the I.W.W. hall.

Secretary Smith fled from a rear entrance, firing an automatic. His weapon "jammed," but he restored it to working condition and continued to fire until he was overtaken and disarmed.

Legion to Combat Radicalism

Clashes between the I.W.W. and Centalla citizens have occurred at intervals during the past two years. The first trouble occurred when a radical spoke against a Red Cross bazaar. At that time a crowd removed all furniture from the I.W.W. hall and burned it in the street.

Gov. Hart today was en route to the capital from the eastern part of the state. His only statement was "there will be no mob rule at Centalla."

The request that troops be sent to Centalla was followed by a cancellation from the prosecuting attorney, but it was not sent in time to halt departure from Tacoma of a company of 75 state militiamen.

From Yakima today came a report that members of the American Legion there were discussing formation of a secret order within the legion designed to combat radicalism.

place. Large quantities of radical literature, red flags and furniture were burned in the streets by the mob. The mob was said to have consisted of 400 former service men and members of the American Legion. The offices of the World, a socialist organ situated in the building, also was wrecked. The communist labor party is said to be a new radical organization here. The wrecking of the committee's headquarters was carried out in methodical fashion and with such swiftness that by the time the police arrived on the scene the crowd had dispersed and none could be identified as having been connected with the raid. 53 Seward at Portland, Ore. PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 12.—Federal officials today began an investigation of the antecedents and activities of 53 men taken into custody by the police in a raid on headquarters of the "council of workmen, soldiers and sailors" last night. Reports that speakers at a meeting of the council had denounced the American Legion and had charged members of the organization with responsibility for the riots at Centalla Wash., yesterday, in which four men were killed, caused Mayor George Baker, to order the raid. As soon as reports of the Centalla trouble reached here, Chief of Police Jennings summoned all available patrolmen to be held in reserve. Agents of the police sent to the meeting of the council reported the speeches were of an incendiary character and the raid followed, all those taken into custody being charged with vagrancy. One of the prisoners, Joseph Laundry, is a candidate for the presidency of the Central labor council. Two other prisoners have been prominent in radical agitation here.

To Solve Hungarian Situation

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—(Via London)—The allies have taken energetic measures to solve the Hungarian political situation, according to reports from Budapest to the Lokal Anzeiger. Sir George Clerk, the allied emissary, has delivered on behalf of the supreme council, it is stated, an ultimatum to Premier Friedrich, notifying him that a coalition cabinet must be formed within 48 hours or that he must retire from the premiership.

Reds Cheered at Election Riot

PARIS, Nov. 12.—An election riot with revolutionary features occurred today in the small industrial town of Dorian, department of Ain, where extremists are numerous. The republican candidates were received with shouts of "Long live Lenin and the revolution!" "Long live the Boches!" "Down with the army and the bourgeoisie!" The republicans were threatened with death and besieged in the town hall by the turbulent elements. Red flags were carried and the revolution was acclaimed by the besiegers.

Official Time of Great Air Derby

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard, the "flying parson" won the recent army transcontinental airplane race with the shortest elapsed time—9 days, four hours, 26 minutes and 5 seconds—according to an official decision of the war department announced here last night at the American Flying Club's Armistice day dinner. On actual flying time however, Maynard was fifth to Lieut. Alexander Pearson, who spent 48 hours, 57 minutes and 16 seconds in the air. Lt. Maynard gave an exhibition of flying at Boston yesterday.

Prior to the luncheon Robert W. Harwood, Harvard 1920 and a member of the varsity track team, will speak to the young men.

The Duddies again held forth at the Highland club house last evening when they conducted their second dancing party of the season for the entertainment of a large number of their friends. The dance continued until midnight, with perfect comradeship featuring the success of the affair. The Duddies in charge were Charles Keyes, Patrick Mullane, John Maguire, William Golden and James Gillogly.

The dance given at the Highland club house Monday evening by the Altonnas was one of the most enjoyable of the many which have been held there during the past month. In keeping with the celebration of Armistice day the hall was decorated with the national colors and a patriotic keynote was evident throughout the evening. During an intermission refreshments were served by Caterer Harvey. Several novelty dances added interest to the program. The three members of the Altonnas who successfully managed the affair were Herbert Harris, John Clark and Edward Alcott.

Plot to Seize New York Hotels

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Danger of a general strike of hotel employees with its ultimate object the "taking over" of hotel properties, was discussed today at the 34th annual convention of the New York State Hotel association. Assertion that Dec. 20 had been decided upon by radical leaders as the date for such a strike, was made last night by Frank Boland, attorney for the association. "You men may not realize it," he said, "but a secret movement to take over your property is on foot. Don't feel any sense of security. It is dangerous just now, and the movement is general throughout the state." Advocating a "house cleaning" while the opportunity was at hand, Mr. Boland urged hotelmen to "take your faithful employees into your confidence and don't be caught off guard."

The Perfect Oil for Salads

It is delicacy and smoothness that make real Mayonnaise Dressing. It is delicacy and smoothness that make Mazola so popular with those who like Salads properly dressed. Italians who know real olive oil are enthusiastic about Mazola.

Your grocer sells Mazola at much less the price of the best olive oil, which permits you to have salads at home as often as you please without worrying too much about the cost of the dressing.

Make This Delicious Mayonnaise Dressing Today

2 Eggs, Yolks only 1 pint of Mazola 1 teaspoon of Mustard
1 dash of Pepper 1 teaspoon of Salt 4 tablespoons of Vinegar

Have all ingredients and mixing utensils cold. Mix dry ingredients. Add egg yolks and when well mixed add ½ teaspoon of vinegar. Add Mazola drop by drop until the mixture begins to thicken, beating slowly. As soon as the mixture thickens, add the remainder of the vinegar, a little at a time. Now beat in the remainder of the Mazola gradually until all is used. The mayonnaise should be thick enough to hold its shape. Put in a glass jar and cover close. Place in the ice box to be used when needed. It will keep for weeks. Do not stir it when you open it; take out as much as you need with a tablespoon, and close the jar.

SOUTH END CELEBRATION

Banquet Features Happy Conclusion to Big Home Welcome to Heroes

Those who worked untiringly to make the South End welcome-home celebration a complete success, members of the various committees of the women's auxiliary and several invited guests were present at the banquet held yesterday afternoon in Hamilton hall, Odd Fellows building, to officially bring the event to a happy conclusion. It was an occasion for counter expressions of appreciation and congratulation and amid such surroundings the affair could be nothing but delightfully pleasant.

Fully 300 sat around the banquet tables, the head table guests including: John W. Sharkey, Rev. John S. Perry, Rev. N. W. Matthews, Lt. Daniel M. Foley, Commissioner James E. Donnelly, George F. Conway, John H. Condon, Daniel Cosgrove, Mrs. Theresa Corby Melancon, Miss Mollie Roane, Miss Kathleen O'Lea, Redmond Welch, Frank Corcoran, Lieut. James Hogan, John Sadler and John Devlin.

Following the invocation of the divine blessing by Rev. John S. Perry of St. Anthony's church, Caterer Lydon served a beautiful turkey dinner which thoroughly satisfied the most exacting dignitaries.

John H. Condon introduced John W. Sharkey as toastmaster and the latter was most acceptable in this difficult position. He welcomed the women present and called upon Commissioner Donnelly who responded with several of his better known songs. Rev. N. W. Matthews spoke in a humorous vein, thanked the committee of its invitation to be present and extended his congratulations to the committee workers on the success scored. Daniel Cosgrove, chairman of the general committee, and one of the most earnest workers for the celebration program, expressed his thanks for the splendid co-operation given him and paid tribute to the help the women afforded in the work. Mr. Cosgrove made a rousing speech describing the enthusiasm with which the South End people entered into the movement to

CATARRH DOES HARM

Whether It Is of the Nose, Throat, or Other Organs, Get Rid of It.

Catarrh of the nose or throat when it becomes chronic weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and may lead to consumption. It impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by purifying the blood removes the cause of the disease and gives permanent relief. This alternative and tonic medicine has proved entirely satisfactory to thousands of families in three generations.

If there is biliousness or constipation, take Hood's Pills—they are a thorough cathartic, a gentle laxative, welcome their boys. He was loudly applauded.

Songs by Miss Mae Rynne, Miss Loretta Finnelly and Miss Marion Sanderson were much enjoyed, after which brief remarks were made by Rev. Fr. Perry and James E. Donnelly. Police Superintendent Redmond Welch waxed reminiscent for a bit and entertained with a number of stories of South End application. The Goggin sisters gave several piano and violin duets and the gathering sang "The Star Spangled Banner" to bring the meeting to a close.

Throughout the afternoon Miss Esther Crowley played the accompaniment for all of the soloists.

The committee in charge of the banquet included: Mrs. Theresa C. Melancon, chairman; Mrs. Elizabeth Buckley, assistant chairman; Miss Mollie Roane, Miss Maria Markham, Miss Mary E. Markham, Miss Mary T. Carmody, Miss Anastasia Lannon, Mrs. George F. Underwood and Mrs. Michael J. Sharkey.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A regular meeting of the members of the Local Integrity lodge, 6630, I.O.O.F., M. U., was held Monday evening with G.M. William DeLong acting as N.G. pro tem.

The attendance was large and considerable business was transacted. Two new members were elected to honorary membership and five new members were initiated. The entertainment committee was instructed to take up the matter of a welcome home reception for the members of the organization who were in the service. At the close of the meeting interesting remarks were made by Brig. Gen. Bowles, P.G. Arthur DeLong and P.G. George Mackley.

Gen. Adelbert Ames Camp

A feature of Monday evening's meeting of Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, 13, U. S.W.V., was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: Commander, Richard Gibson; S.U.C., P. J. Burns; J. V.C. Thomas; officer of the day, Carl Fingrel; officer of grand, George Everett; trustees, A. D. Mitchell and W. J. Bradley.

After the meeting, in conjunction with the auxiliary, a supper was served which was enjoyed by all.

Div. 11, A.O.H.

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the members of Div. 11, A.O.H., which was held last evening. Considerable business was transacted and at the close of the business session a social hour was held in observance of Armistice day, during which interesting remarks were given by John J. Donovan and others. Later general dancing was enjoyed, music being furnished by Wall's orchestra. The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Patrick Finnich, chairman; Thomas Meskill, John Kenny, John McQueney and William Nelson.

S. H. Illness' Lodge

Considerable business was transacted at the meeting of the members of S. H. Illness' lodge, 56, K. of P., which was held last evening. It was announced that the entertainment committee has made arrangements for a good time to be held on the evening of Nov. 25 and also that the nomination of officers will take place Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

LABOR UNION MEETINGS

A conference between representatives of the Machinists' union and officials of the Saco-Lowell shops and the Heinz Electric Co. relative to an increase in wages for the machinists employed in those plants, was held Monday afternoon, but nothing was accomplished and at the close of the conference it was announced that another conference would be held in the latter part of the week. The workmen have asked for an increase in wages and it is stated that they have already voted to strike if their demand is not granted. The representatives of the union at the conference were Organizers Larkin and McCabe and Robert Fischer, a member of the executive board of the International Union of Machinists.

Molders' Union

President John P. Wellman occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the Molders' union, which was held Monday night. A lengthy report of the conference held Monday afternoon at city hall was given by Charles E. Anderson and routine business was transacted.

Loomfixers' Union

Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Loomfixers' union, which was held Monday night. The attendance was large and at the close of the business session a social hour was held.

Extend Closing of Post Chapter

The ranks of Lowell Post of the American Legion have filled so rapidly during the past few days that Adjutant McCready has secured permission to extend the closing of the post chapter until next Monday evening. A total of 440 new members were received over the past week-end and holiday and it was this splendid evidence of interest that caused the adjutant to wire the state adjutant, Leo A. Spillane, for the desired extension. Mr. Spillane, who is attending the national convention in Minneapolis, immediately telegraphed in the affirmative.

With the closing of the chapter next Monday, applicants after that date will be obliged to have their names voted upon by the post and also it is very possible that the initiation fee will be increased. The next regular meeting of the post comes Monday night, at which time Vice Commander John J. O'Rourke will report upon the national convention sessions.

DE PAUL EASY

Western Eleven Outclassed by St. John's Prep

LAWRENCE, Nov. 12.—The St. John's Prep school football machine smothered the lightweight De Paul academy eleven of Chicago at O'Sullivan park yesterday afternoon by a score of 22 to 0. The St. John's sectional contest between two exceptionally clever aggregations, a crowd of 2000 attended, but the contest was disappointing from the standpoint of a battle.

Three years ago De Paul sent a team of wonderful ability into the east and pitched it against Somerville high, but yesterday's eleven won a selection of the earlier invaders and to boot, lacked cohesiveness, football sense, attack and weight. Only once did its necessary distance find a goal and at no time threatened the goal line of the Danvers eleven.

St. John's outplayed the men from the west, and all departing from their backfield of Kearson, Carpenello and Bartley ripped the De Paul line

Beauty Answers

By MADAME MAREE

MISS GETTIE O. M.—You say you are 25 and look like 35. If you will try this wrinkle formula you will soon say you will look like 20, and this is no exaggeration. You will find that results will prove that if you will make up your mind to use this formula, liberal-ly, every day, and use no other so-called wrinkle cream. Add two table-spoonfuls of glycerine and two ounces of epol to a half-pint of hot water. Keep stirring until they form a satiny cream. This is so economical that it can be used generously, and will hasten the result. It removes wrinkles, crows feet and lines of age. The epol can be obtained for not more than 50 cents at any drug store.

MRS. S. O. S.—Your hair should at once stop falling if you will use my hair formula. Every one who has tried it says it is perfectly astounding how it makes hair grow and stops hair falling. Get one ounce of beta-quinol from your druggist for 50 cents and mix it with one pint of witch hazel, or if preferred, in one-half pint each of water and lay rain. Use this every day and your dream of long, silky, beautiful hair will truly come true. In making up this mixture you will find it will give you a pint of the hair grower at a smaller cost than that of any prepared hair treatment, and besides, you have the best you can get anywhere. It will not fail to give results.

MRS. H. O. T.—Your hair is brittle because of the soap and ordinary shampoos you have been using. You know they all contain alkali. That dries up the natural oils. Now, just dissolve a teaspoonful of eggol in a cup of water and use as a headwash and you'll see how different your hair will be. All fatty accumulations and dandruff will disappear like magic. You'll never use anything else. Enough eggol can be obtained for 25 cents at the drug store for over a dozen of these shampoos.—Adv.

WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS TELLS HOW SHE GOT WELL

Miss G. I. Baird, of 30 Glenville ave., Allston, Mass., writes: "I have been sick almost two years, had four doctors with little or no relief. I was growing thin every day, went from 135 to 111. I was so discouraged I didn't know what to do. One night, about three weeks ago, I picked up a paper and saw your Dr. True's Elixir, Family Laxative and Worm Expeller advertised. I made up my mind I had worms and the next day bought a small bottle of Dr. True's Elixir. I was surprised at the result, stomach worms some a finger long, so much slimy, that looked as though it was just the skin of worms. The day before I took Dr. True's Elixir I thought I should go wild with the crawling in my stomach. I feel like a new person, all my friends say I look so much better. I wouldn't have believed anyone could feel so much better in such a short time. I can't give your medicine praise enough."

Signs of worms: Offensive breath, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, deranged stomach, occasional griping and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, red points on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Dr. True's Elixir, The Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, is sold by ALL DEALERS.—Adv.

CHIPPEWAS WIN

FROM SIDNEYS

The Chippewas put it all over the Sidneys in a football game played on the Sidneys' field yesterday. The Sidneys entered the game determined to knock the "chip" out of the Chippewas, but the "tribe" repelled the invaders and sent them to the "hunting grounds" to the tune of 30 to 6.

The Chippewas have a fast and clever team, and for an organization of such tender years showed remarkable ability in the strenuous game. All plays went off like clockwork and forward passes and line plunges were executed in expert fashion. A large crowd enjoyed the game. The lineup:

MINERS' STRIKE CALLED OFF

Armistice day brought the cancellation of the miners' strike order, in accordance with the demand of the federal court and as a result, the whole country today will breathe easier.
The leaders of the miners have done the right thing, and in declaring their Americanism in revoking the strike order, they have won general good will. "We are Americans, we cannot fight our government," says President Lewis in his order of cancellation. It is to be hoped that this sentiment will be reflected in the future action of the miners as a body in their prompt return to work.
The government has been able to avert suffering and loss not only to the parties concerned but to the entire nation through the operation of a law enacted to protect the public during the war. That law, known as the Lever act, will lapse with the official declaration of peace; but hereafter, it is safe to predict, the government will be required to adopt similar measures to protect the people whenever a national calamity is threatened as a result of either a strike or a lockout.

With the strike declared off, the secretary of labor has arranged for a renewal of negotiations between the operators and the miners, beginning at Washington next Monday, as a result of which it is hoped full justice will be done to the miners.

The American Federation of Labor could not possibly adopt a more direct path to self extinction than by setting itself squarely in opposition to any court order or law of the United States.

Had the miners refused to cancel the strike order, they would have set themselves up in defiance of the supreme authority of the government, and incurred the penalties provided for such offenses. That they number 400,000 or over will not enable them to evade the law. The government authorities see in this strike, not the effort of honest labor to secure better conditions, but the first great overt act towards coercing the government into the nationalization of the mines.

The miners will get justice, but not as the result of coercion as was the case when the Adamson law was passed. The radicals working through the labor unions will not be allowed to menace law and order and the very existence of our government.

PROGRAM OF THE REDS

During the campaign against the Reds and their radical allies in this country, the labor organization that sets itself up against the government or in opposition to any court order, must be classed among the enemies of the republic.

The time has arrived when all organizations that set themselves up in defiance of the government must be convinced that they will have to obey the law or cease to function. Labor organizations claim the right to strike in a body under any or all circumstances, regardless of consequences, even when, as in case of the miners' strike, such action might bring a calamity of the worst kind upon the entire nation. Upon this question, where the safety of the public is involved, the claim of labor is decidedly wrong. The interests and the safety of the public are paramount, so that it is quite within the purview of the law to prohibit such strikes even if they are founded upon grievances that in justice should be redressed.

The miners may have had reason to complain; but that did not justify them in violating their agreement with the operators, nor would it justify them in any course of action that would bring incalculable loss and suffering upon the public.

The Sun has continuously held that in the employ of public service corporations, strikes should be forbidden and all labor claims and disputes submitted to arbitration or to an industrial court established for the purpose. Some arrangement of this kind must be made if the industries of the country are to be protected against ruinous strikes that would tie up the transportation systems and spread famine and death throughout the land.

The worst feature of the labor strike is, that it is being used for revolutionary purposes by radicals of the foreign type by the union of Russian workers, the I. W. W.,

the anarchists, socialists and various other brands of revolutionary workers. Here in brief is the program of the Russian workers as revealed by documentary evidence seized by the department of justice in the recent raids:

- "Complete destruction of private control of natural resources and capital."
- "Complete destruction of power of rule."
- "How it's to be done"
- "Convert small strikes into general strikes."
- "Convert general strikes into armed revolt of the laboring masses against capital and state."
- "Seizure of all means of production and all articles of consumption."
- "Mercilessly destroy all remains of governmental authority and class domination."
- "Liberate all prisoners."
- "Demolish prisons and police offices."
- "Destroy all legal papers pertaining to private ownership of property."
- "Destroy all field fences and boundaries."
- "Destroy all certificates of indebtedness."
- "Blow up barracks."
- "Shoot most prominent military and police officers."

Verily it is high time for the government to move with all its force for the suppression of this organization of desperadoes, the followers of Lenin and Trotsky who think they can establish anarchy here as they have done in their own afflicted country.

Deportation or death should be the sentence of men convicted of implication in such plots. There should be no temporizing with any such enemy.

FOR WIDER STREETS

Any person who passes along a principal street can see at a glance that they are all too narrow and that crowded traffic is the result.

In this respect Lowell is no worse off than most other five cities. The coming of the auto has caused the congestion.

In metropolitan cities like Boston an attempt has been made to overcome this difficulty by constructing subways and building elevated railways. Yet both have not fully relieved the congestion in travel, and in the facilities for doing business.

So valuable has the property along the crowded streets become, that no longer is it feasible to widen the business streets. For better or worse, Boston must continue to put up with the inconveniences of narrow and crooked streets.

There will inevitably come a time in the history of Lowell when Central street and Gorham, and perhaps other streets also, must be relieved by subways. Both streets are much too narrow and apparently there is no relief in sight.

The least that can be done to provide against any extension of this evil is to see that all new streets to be laid out shall be wide enough to allow at least four streams of traffic in addition to a car track. This is an age of automobiles and the number is daily increasing. For safety and convenience the streets must be wider and if we cannot change the older streets, we can at least see that all new streets will meet the requirements of the present day in offering plenty of space for travel even where autos are parked on either side.

The great need of the hour is for a convenient parking place for autos in the downtown districts where business men leave their machines on the streets for the greater part of the day.

How to make space for five autos where there is room for but one is the problem with which the authorities have to contend in the downtown districts. The future may find the time and the money to build a great subway in a central location in which autos can be parked in the morning and called for at night without inconvenience. But the most expert financiers cannot look far enough into the future to anticipate a time when our city will be able to afford the expense. Yet in the long run the greatest needs will be met in a practical way.

THE RAILROAD EVASION

The republican congress has so far failed to solve the railroad problem in time to have the roads turned over under a comprehensive statute for their proper government at the end of the year, that temporary measures are to be adopted which will throw the real settlement over till next year in the heat of a presidential campaign. Thus far the republicans have been unable to agree upon a proper solution and to save the reputation of the party claiming superior business capacity, the roads are to be turned back to the owners under the same rentals now being paid by the government, pending the final settlement at whatever time will best serve the political exigencies of the party.

Since the special session was called, May 19, the republicans have had plenty of time to deal with this question, but they are simply evading the settlement for political reasons; and meantime the roads will continue to receive war subsidies. The senate has proposed an anti-strike provision to which the house has objected and now the leaders who view all such questions through political glasses decide that no such provision shall be forced upon organized labor at the present time. So much for the boasted business ability of the U. S. congress. Its ability as usual serves to shine particularly in the game of politics.

HONESTY

Honest goods are more easily sold. It takes less time and effort and money to sell an honest proposition than one that is questionable. This is a discovery since advertising has become so generally used in promoting sales.

An advertisement for a questionable article or proposition does not draw as large a number of inquiries as an honest one. While the unwary may be caught by dishonest schemes, the shrewd people are quick to see and suspect whatever smacks of dishonesty or trickery. The wise ones are more numerous than the suckers and they have more money.

Thus honest advertising brings a larger return than that which is questionable; for it has a wider field in its appeal. The discovery that honesty in advertising pays has done more to clean advertising than any power of individual or organized censorship. It is all in the fact that as a matter of profit, honesty in advertising as in personal salesmanship, is not just the best policy, but the only policy.—N. E. A.

If the republican majority in the house of representatives will permit the investigation of its several "smelling" committees requested by a democratic member, the public will soon have definite information as to how much the taxpayers have unwittingly contributed to the expense of gathering campaign material for the G. O. P.

Soldiers are waiting more or less patiently to find what congress is going to do to redeem republican promises of compensatory legislation. Republican leaders reply that they are waiting to ascertain what the soldiers desire. But these same leaders didn't consult the soldiers last spring, before making their pledges of immediate action.

More power to the department of justice in its efforts to head off the demonstration of the Reds. If a thousand or two of the leaders be shipped back to the countries whence they came, the remaining portion of the cult may conclude to respect our laws at least to the extent of giving their attention to other occupations than plotting rebellion.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some plants can move about as easily as animals, wall flowers, for instance.

Since a good Chinese wants to be buried in China, the bodies of those who die in foreign lands are not sent there separately, but are accumulated until they make up a shipment and can be transported at minimum expense.

Checking the Children
The shimile, the angleworm twist, the caveman squeeze and similar practices of the public dance floor are barred in Pittsburgh, Kan., by order of the welfare board. The board has further ruled that parents who attend public dances must check children under 16 in the ante room.

And what may we ask, are children who attend public dances expected to do with their parents? Leave 'em at home as per usual?

Still Feeding Humans
Louis J. Abita, Mex philosopher, who says you can live 400 years on a steady diet of raw oats and rice, evidently hasn't learned that you can feed a horse nothing but raw oats and rice. Possibly he thinks the human constitution is stronger than that possessed by the horse. But would want to live 400 years if he faced a life of raw oats three times a day? Or even 40 years? Or even four? Possibly Senator Abita thinks an ordinary lifetime given over to the eating of raw oats would seem like 400 years. We'll say it would!

the busy street until he reached the traffic policeman.
"Officer," he began excitedly, "have you been in Chicago long?"
"Ten years, sir," replied the policeman.
"Well, do you know where I can find a man called Brown?"
"No sir."
"Sure you can't?" persisted the old man urgently.
"Look here!" said the policeman impatiently. "There are two and a half million people in Chicago. Do you expect me to know all of them?"
"No," was the old chap's cold retort, "but I thought you might have sense enough to know one."

Nail for Wooden Head
A cycling dude was riding along when his hat blew off. A passing countryman picked it up and took it to him as he circled round, saving him the trouble of getting off his machine.
"I weally must get some string to keep this bally hat on," muttered the rider, as he wheeled off without a word of thanks.
The countryman's reply was short, but expressive: "Get a nail, gov'nor!"

Hiding the Roll
A hungry urchin entered a London baker's shop one foggy night and asked for a roll.
The boy, then made a novel request.
"My brother's outside," he said "and if he knows I've got this 'ere 'ell take it away from me. Will yer 'ide it for me, gov'nor, down 'ere," pointing to the back of his neck.
Being a humane man, the shopkeeper came from behind the counter and stuffed the roll down the back of the lad's neck.
"Thanks, gov'nor, that'll do," said the boy as he ran out of the shop.
A few minutes later another urchin confronted the baker.
"As a young highter bin in and bought a guster?"

Human Nature
Yes, Luella, things are looking pretty very hard all around;
Seemingly the way has gotten pretty soft to middle ground.
Anyway, we aren't progressing to agreement very fast,
And the present situation isn't very apt to last.
What the trouble is, my dearie, isn't very hard to find.
On the one hand men are very loth to leave the past behind.
On the other, just as many, where the want to gain their whole objective in a single drastic stride.

After blustering a little, prone to strut about the field,
Both the disputants, Luella, will be more disposed to yield.
After calling for militia and combatting the police,
All the combatants will gladly yield a little bit to peace.
Men at heart are stubborn creatures, each according to his lights;
Thus it is we have our shindies and a lot of little fights.
Once we learn respect for justice everywhere and all around,
All of us shall stand together on the rock of middle ground.

That is all, my little girlie. Be ye not a bit dismayed;
Progress onward to perfection never yet was a parade.
Step by step we struggle upward, each persistent in his part;
And the way to things worth having is—CLARK MACADAMS in St. Louis Post Dispatch by way of keeping heart.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough
This home-made syrup does the work in hours! Really prepared, and never bested!

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually sells the ordinary cough best cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it's pure and good.
Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar-syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.
And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.
Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.
To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Some people are very accommodating and one of the candidates for mayor can vouch for this, for last Sunday he had occasion to know how good it feels to be with real good fellows. It seems that this candidate's car stalled in Acton street, over a mile from the nearest garage and refused to budge. Luckily just opposite the spot where the machine became stalled, the automobile man of the Lowell Fertilizing company, was working on a car and he quickly went to the assistance of the driver of the stalled auto. Everything possible was done to start the disabled car, but all efforts proved fruitless. Finally, although the gasoline indicator showed there was some gas in the tank, it was found that the tank was empty and there was no place in the near vicinity where gasoline could be obtained. The machinist volunteered to get enough "juice" to carry the machine to the nearest garage and that was no easy task, but much to his credit he succeeded. The young man walked about a mile across fields, went into a private garage "armed" with a gallon bottle and a pair of pliers and after tapping the tank of an old machine, which had never been drained out, he succeeded in getting a gallon of gasoline, poured it into the tank of the disabled car with the result that the candidate was able to continue his trip. Now the most important part of this little story is that the machinist refused to accept any money for his services and furthermore he informed the candidate that he would go among his friends and do all he could in boosting his candidacy. "That's the type of a man one likes to meet on the road," said the candidate when he returned to the city.

Galli-Curel was at her best Sunday afternoon. At least, it seemed to a layman that she had reached the height of heights and that further beauty of tone, further accuracy of diction, further delightful pleasure in her own art would have moored her on the isolated rocks that only superhumans inhabit. And that is a danger that Mme. Galli-Curel has artistically avoided. In her varied career she has ever been human. "Homo sum—I am a man," one of the characters of classic history, once said when he wanted to express his interest in all things that pertained to men. And so might Galli-Curel well say: "Femina sum—I am a woman." For she is first a woman and then a great artist. She was human when she chose to give up a life of ease and luxury that might easily have been hers for the more taking, in order that she might fulfill her very human desire to accomplish something of her own initiative and own ability. She was human when her family met reverses of a financial nature and she girded herself for four years' struggle to keep her family out of want. And she was human when all last success came winging its way toward her after being delayed many long, discouraging years. And it's because she has gone through all these experiences of ordinary humans, still keeping her sense of the artistic and a resolve to gratify that sense, that today she is able to sing her way to the hearts of human beings. For Galli-Curel's own heart is made up of the solid structure that comprises the heart of most humans.

But back to Sunday afternoon. Symphony hall could not well have held more. Capacious as it is, it was all too meagre for the host who wanted to hear the notes of the songbird. Alsties were filled with hundreds eager to stand for several hours that they might drink in the wealth of song that was being dispersed. The platform itself, usually reserved for the artist and accompanist, held several hundred on its either side, so jealous of space that they left but a narrow passageway for the singer to make her entrances and exits. But Galli-Curel was exultant rather than inconvenienced or fazed by the throng that surrounded her. Every age was represented in the vast audience, and through her program, everybody was motionless. When she first made her appearance, it is true, there were many who used their opera glasses, that they might get an intimate view of her, but as she sang on, it was interesting to note that gradually the opera glasses lay unused in their owners' laps and all interest centered on the artist's voice, not her appearance. A subtle tribute to her magic, perhaps, but none the less a real one. And then over on one side of the platform sat a middle-aged gentleman, not five yards distant from the singer herself, who leaned over in a strained position with his ear that he might get what he could of the feast that those surrounding him were able to enjoy without difficulty. One's ears and one's hearing suddenly became more valuable assets after a glance at the unfortunate victim of deafness who was determined that his malady shouldn't cheat him of his enjoyment.

Galli-Curel was gowned in soft pink, contrasting soothingly with the deep hue of her hair. And she sought to continue this contrast by braiding, if that be the term, that ran from her shoulders to her waist on either side. At first it was deceiving. One thought that she had allowed loose braids of her hair to fall over her shoulders. Her published photographs do the singer no credit. Much stouter in face and pleasantly ample in figure, she is vastly better looking than her pictures would lead one to think. And she has the vivacious mannerisms of her Italy. Subdued, perhaps, but nevertheless noticeable. She walks briskly and while waiting for her accompaniment, tosses her head from one side to the other. And over it all is her smile of the southland, that immediately wins one. In passing from the front of the platform to her exit in the rear after one of her numbers, she chanced to knock an article of clothing to the floor that one of her auditors had left in the way and she immediately stooped to pick it up. The human in her once more came to the surface.

As for her program, let your music critic tell you of her technical excellencies. By intuition the layman realizes that she possesses them even though he can't define them. She opened with a brace of old English numbers that were at all times vivacious and served to bring out her faultless mastery of English. The "Caro Nome," from "Rigoletto," brought out Verdi's best liked number, in the opinion of many, and Galli-Curel attributed to it a control of the higher chords that actually brought gasps. Her high notes developed power as she held them as though some inward force was giving them strength and range. Linn's "L'Espresso Exquisite" brought out her tenderness and the Spanish "Catalinas" was a rollicking, amusing bit of art. "I Saw Thee Weep" returned the audience to thoughts more serious, and the glorious "Sempre Libera" from Verdi's "Traviata" left the crowd in an ecstasy of enthusiasm. Then came a series of bergerettes of 18th century, trilling in their every note the spirit of France of that time. The mad scene from Hamlet closed the formal program and was a fitting climax. Mme. Galli-Curel was required to respond three or four times after every number and was generous enough to give a half dozen extras. "Way Down Upon the Swane River," "Home, Sweet Home," and "Robin Adair" were the numbers given in English and intermingled were several in French and one in her beloved Italian. Mr. Derogeur, Artist, gave pleasure in a number of accompaniments, notably in the mad scene, and in two solos was enthusiastically received. Homer Samuels at the piano was most sympathetic and intelligent. In all, it was an afternoon of pleasure such as New England enjoys on but rare occasions.

Seborrhea Kills the Hair
FAMO Kills Seborrhea
Seborrhea is an old trouble to which scientists have given a new name.
And science has found in FAMO a new way of overcoming it.
Seborrhea is the disease which kills the roots of the hair by means of the deadly dandruff bacilli.
It does to the hair what pyorrhea does to the teeth.
FAMO is a formula worked out in one of the recognized pharmaceutical laboratories of Detroit.
Three years were required to develop FAMO.
It proved its efficacy before it was offered to the public.
The way in which FAMO does its work is almost unbelievable.
Transformation is Wonderful
Almost at once your eyes testify to the transformation.
New hair grows like the hair of healthy children.
The scalp becomes like the scalp of a baby. All itching of the scalp is stopped.
FAMO brings back the look of health by a softness and lustre beyond words to describe.
FAMO Destroys Bacilli
FAMO removes the obstacle to growth, when it kills the seborrhea (dandruff) bacilli.
Freed from the bondage of disease, the hair leaps into luxuriance.
In women the change is wonderful. If their hair was normally beautiful, the beauty is intensified.
FAMO Contains No Alcohol
The natural color is enhanced and growth is retarded. FAMO contains no alcohol.
Alcohol, if used persistently, is harmful to the hair, as it dries the scalp and hair.
FAMO comes in two sizes—a small size for 36 cents and extra large size at $1. Your money back if it doesn't satisfy.
Every member of the family should use it.
FAMO is sold at all toilet goods counters. Applications may be had at the bottom barber shops.
Seborrhea is the medical name for a morbidly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The morbid secretion forms in scales or flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

CARING FOR DISABLED WAR HEROES

BY GEORGE B. WATERS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The people of America may be sure that the disabled soldiers will be given the best care possible.

There are 250,000 wounded veterans. About 50,000 of these will have to be rehabilitated by vocational training.

About 13 per cent of the 250,000 contracted tuberculosis and they must be given the best cures possible and most of them are being given open-air treatment.

During the war between 15,000 and 16,000 men were discharged on account of insanity. Most of these are in asylums, and little can be done for them, except to keep them in institutions, make them as comfortable as possible, and they will be treated as "totally disabled" and will have access to their benefit whatever compensation is provided in such cases.

On November 1, 15,527 men were receiving vocational training, and 34,737 men had been recommended for such training by district vocational officers. The reason all of them haven't actually been put into schools is because they are in hospitals. There are 3000 men who were discharged from hospitals whom the Federal Board for Vocational Education would like to find. They were allowed to go home during the confusion that followed the armistice. All mayors and county judges have been asked to look out for them, and the men are requested to communicate with the board.

The vocational board is spending $1,000,000 a month in compensation and maintenance for the disabled. Congress has appropriated $23,000,000 to date for rehabilitation and another $15,000,000 will be forthcoming to run the work till June 30. The board has asked for $35,750,000 for this service from July 1, 1920 to June 30, 1921.

Under the present law men while taking vocational training receive from $50 to $150 a month. The $50 is for a single man. If he has child he gets $10 additional, and for additional children varying sums are added.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance, of which Col. Chalmers Jones is director, is supposed to take care of all the disabled not taking vocational training. But under the present law it has authority to pay to persons with total disability only sums ranging from $30 to $85. Single men get $30, a man with wife $45, with wife and child, $55, wife and three or more children, $75 and $10 additional to each sum for each mother or father dependent on the disabled soldier. These sums are inadequate and much complaint has been heard.

But congress is expected to correct this evil soon.

NO SOLUTION YET OF SUGAR PROBLEM

Speaking of sugar—

And a speaking acquaintance is about all one can have with it—

We went searching for sugar today.

"A pound of sugar, please," we said to the clerk in a down-store.

"What did you say?" he queried looking at us like incredulous-like.

"A pound of sugar," we insisted.

"Oh, sugar. Thought I misunderstood you. We haven't any."

"But you will have some soon?" we asked.

"Maybe, maybe. Can't tell. Come around tomorrow—might be able to give you a pound then."

Next place we tried they referred us to the boss.

"The boss is looking after the sugar now," a blonde young woman informed us.

So we called on the boss.

"Young man," he said, "there's no sugar in town. Don't know when there will be."

We got up enough courage here to ask him where he figured all the sugar was.

"Don't ask me," he came right back.

Tried another place—nothing like trying, you know.

"Only sell sugar to our regular customers," the clerk told us.

"You have some then?" we casually inquired.

"Very little, very little. And we must look after our regular customers first, of course."

Did we get discouraged? Not us.

We tripped nonchalantly into another grocer's establishment.

"About some sugar," we began in a slightly subdued tone.

"Well, I might let you have a little," hazarded the proprietor, casting a cautious glance about the store.

"Now, if you want to buy about $2 worth of groceries I guess I can let you have a pound?"

We didn't stop there, either.

Yes, we had the $2. But we didn't need the groceries just then.

"Maybe we'll have some next week," greeted our next attempt. "Call around about Monday; I hear there's some on the way."

"We have some real nice brown sugar," said the next man. "Like to try some?"

"No," we replied, emphatically.

Reason we refused was that we tried brown sugar in our coffee 'tother

"We never will again, though."

"Prohibition's to blame," said another man, after he had gently but firmly refused our modest little request.

"If we didn't have prohibition there'd be lots of sugar."

"How do you figure that out?" we wanted to know.

"Very simple, young man. Everybody's drinking soft drinks now. Takes lots more sugar. Soft drink manufacturers have used it all up."

Well, we didn't get any sugar.

We did hear of one bird that's got five pounds in his safe.

And we know just where he lives, too.

But we're not saying anything about that.

DEPORTATION OF BERGER DEMANDED BY LEGION

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 12.—

Proud of its 100 per cent. Americanism and its motto, "God and Country," the American Legion last evening, in its national convention, sent a message to Washington that leaves no doubt about where its 1,000,000 members stand on the question of dealing with disloyal Americans.

The convention had been wrangling all day at its two sessions over questions affecting the policies of the organization when Sergt. Jack Sullivan, of Seattle, leaped to the platform and in a fiery speech denounced Victor Berger, the expelled Wisconsin congressman, demanded that his citizenship papers be cancelled and that he be deported to Germany.

Sullivan didn't stop there. He demanded that Congressman Edward Voight of Wisconsin, the only man in the house who voted against the expulsion of Berger, be investigated and if it is found that he entertains the same ideas as Berger about America in the war, he, too, be unseated and properly punished.

A condensed report of the action taken at yesterday's session follows:

Accepted the Massachusetts platform plank on the future military policy of the country and that prohibiting candidates for election to salaried political office holding any office in the Legion.

Booted the American Federation of Labor when it was held up to the convention as a non-political organization.

Demanded the recalling of Victor Berger's naturalization and his deportation to Germany.

Voted to demand congress appoint a committee to investigate the case of Edmund Vogt, member of congress from Wisconsin, and, if it is found that he was disloyal, that he be expelled.

Voted to hold the next national convention at Cleveland.

Took a recess of two hours to join in the Armistice day parade.

At 11 a. m. the delegates stood in silence for one minute as a mark of respect to their comrades who "sleep in France."

Sent a cable to General Foch thanking him for his message.

Accepted with thanks the offer of the French government to prepare through the American Legion, February 22, 1920, a memorial certificate to the family of every man and woman in the United States army and who died in the service.

ARMISTICE DAY ANNIVERSARY BALL

Members of Lowell post of the American Legion played hosts to hundreds of their friends at Associate hall Monday evening when the first anniversary of Armistice day was celebrated with a pretentious social and ball. It was the first social effort of the former service men as a body and the dance floor and balconies literally were packed with Lowell people who wished to celebrate the momentous events of one year ago. The hall was beautifully decorated with bunting of red, white and blue, while colored streamers stretched from the balcony rail to a point just above the centre cluster of lights. Like the spreading feathers of a peacock, the flags of the allied powers formed a striking centre piece almost at the roof of the hall. The flag fell in rich folds above the stage and the bare woodwork of the gallery and side walls was hidden with gold and white draperies. The whole decorative scheme was stunning in its artistic effect and unquestionably created a patriotic feeling entirely in harmony with the spirit of the day.

Bachelder's Overseas orchestra played glorious music from 8 o'clock until the small hours of the morning. It was the sort of music which demanded recognition and a crowded floor gave evidence of the appreciation of the dancers. George "Babe" Rogers was heard to advantage in cabaret selections at intervals during the program.

The dance committee of the post included Commander Walter Scannell, William Looney, Thomas Gargan, John O'Grady and David McEllan. The proceeds will greatly swell the legion's treasury, while the attractive souvenir dance programs distributed were filled with local advertisements of wide variety.

For farmers a motor truck has been invented that loads, hauls and scatters fertilizer, using the same power for all three operations.

Keep The System Clean And You'll Be Healthy

Elimination helps to avoid colds, headaches and epidemics

ANYONE who has watched himself knows there is nothing so important to health and comfort as regular daily elimination. Half of the minor illnesses of life are due to neglect of this. The five million men who were in our army know the importance the doctor attached to this function.

By all means try to regulate yourself by intelligent diet and exercise, but when these fail you will need a laxative, one as new to nature in its action as skill can make it. In the opinion of many thousands of good Americans such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts promptly, gently and without griping and will with certainty regulate any tendency to constipation that you may have.

Take it when you feel drowsy, dizzy or bilious, when you feel a cold or a fever coming on, when there is an epidemic, when you have eaten anything about which you are in doubt. It is at such times that you need to be free of poisons and of fermenting foods. You can buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for 50c and $1 a bottle. Thousands of families have it constantly in the house against emergencies.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Morrisville, Illinois.

DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN THE PERFECT LAXATIVE

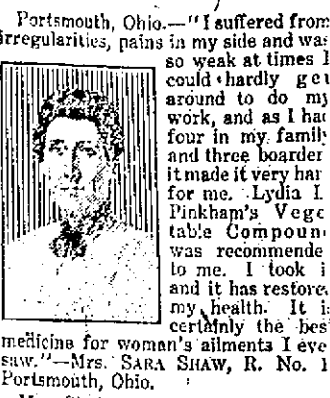

SPARKS MAKES GAIN OF SEVEN VOTES

Hon. John T. Sparks, who opposed Frank H. Putnam for election as senator from the eighth Middlesex district and who was defeated by 136 votes, according to the returns, made a net gain of seven votes as the result of a recount in four local wards held yesterday. The figures in wards 3, 4, 6 and 7 were gone over.

Both Mr. Sparks and Mr. Putnam gained votes inasmuch as it was found that a number of supposed blanks in these wards were really not blanks at all. Mr. Sparks' total gain was 24 and Mr. Putnam's 17. This changes the final figures from Putnam, 7476; Sparks, 7340, to Putnam, 7492; Sparks, 7364. Mr. Putnam's margin of victory is reduced from 136 to 129. This evening a recount will be held

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarder it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for women's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. No. 1 Portsmouth, Ohio.

Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering from discharges, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, sideache, headache, nervousness or "the blues" should not drag along from day to day without giving this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

MEMORIAL MASSES OF REQUIEM CELEBRATED FOR SOLDIER AND SAILOR HEROES

As part of the tribute of remembrance which the residents of Chelmsford wished paid to their soldier and sailor heroes of the world war, memorial masses of requiem were celebrated in three South End churches yesterday. Masses were said at St. Peter's, the Sacred Heart and St. Anthony's churches.

Rev. Daniel J. Kelsner, Ph.D., the pastor, celebrated the mass at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. He was assisted by Rev. Francis L. Shea as deacon and Rev. Peter Linahan as sub-deacon. A large congregation, including the relatives of many service men of the parish, was present. Rev. Dr. Kelsner spoke briefly on the significance of the occasion.

Rev. T. F. O'Brien, O.M.I., celebrated the high mass at the Sacred Heart church at 8 o'clock and he was assisted by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., as sub-deacon.

Right Rev. Bishop de Silva celebrated the memorial mass at St. Anthony's church and paid a tribute to the soldier and sailor veterans of the parish.

HELD EXERCISES IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was the principal speaker at Armistice day exercises held by students of the Lowell evening high school Monday evening in the school hall. Following the formal exercises the floor was cleared for dancing and the Lenox Ladies' orchestra furnished music for a dozen or more numbers.

Henry H. Harris, principal of the evening high school opened the exercises by the reading of Governor Coolidge's Armistice day proclamation and he then introduced the mayor. The latter spoke of the necessity and importance of religion and education in determining the future progress of the world and said that if people sought education not for selfish ends but for the purpose of helping their fellow

PARIS, Nov. 12.—The American delegation to the peace conference has informed the supreme council of its intention to leave France during the first days of December, according to semi-official information from the French foreign office. The British peace delegation has also expressed the same desire and the general impression in French circles is that the conference will conclude its work by the end of this month.

CO. K OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Members of Co. K of the old Six Massachusetts militia, who a year ago were serving with various units with the A.E.F. in France and Belgium, met at the Community club last night and celebrated the first anniversary of Armistice day, the day on which the eyes of all American soldiers turned toward home. Seventy-two members of the old company were present, with relatives and friends and they made the occasion one of lasting memory. Many letters were received from other comrades who could not be present and they all voiced sincere regret at their inability to join in the celebration.

The evening's program included a splendid dinner, several excellent speakers, general sociability and general dancing in the assembly hall of the club. Capt. James M. Greig, who was the commanding officer of Company K before it lost its identity in

Lowell police are searching today for a man who yesterday evening stabbed Antonio Tett, 32 Howard st., across the forehead with a razor and succeeded in making an escape. The fracas took place on Chapel street, and Tett was unable to furnish the police with his assailant's name. Tett is now at St. John's hospital where it was said today that his wound is probably not serious. He gives no reason for the stabbing claiming that his opponent was a total stranger to him.

FRANK DEWEY CHANGES HANDS

Englishman Gives Farnum $5000 for New England Pacing Stallion

Walter Cox Signs Three-year Contract for $20,000 Per Year

New England lost one of its best and fastest pacers a day or two ago, when John Kildough of Lancashire, Eng., bought the handsome stallion, Frank Dewey, from John A. Farnum of Boston. While the purchase price was not announced, it is said to have been close to $5000, the sum which was recently paid for Direct D. Burnett, the rival of the Boston pacer this year.

The deal for Frank had been pending several days. Kildough, accompanied by a few friends, went up to the Farnum stables Saturday and looked over the pacer. Farnum made the journey later and after the two began to talk business it did not take them long to come to terms.

Frank Dewey is one of the best pacers ever bred in New England. John Kildough of Boston raised the stallion, which received his early education at Cambridge, Mass. The owner of Frank is a son of the late John Kildough, who was a member of the New England half-mile track in 1913 and during the past season he was the mainstay in the pacing stakes on the big circuit.

Cox Gets Big Salary

The biggest and most surprising news of the past week, however, was the announcement of the engagement of Walter Cox to take charge of the training department at the Laurel Hill Stables, A. Fletcher's breeding farm near Indianapolis. Friends and acquaintances of the New Hampshire trainer could not believe the story at first, for few could understand why a man would leave his native land after spending more than 30 years in the very shadow of his birthplace.

The old saw which says that money will make the mare go is appropriate to use in the case of Walter Cox. For "Walt" has signed a three-year contract which calls for an annual salary of $20,000, the highest figure ever paid for the services of a trainer for trotting horses. Consequently, nobody has any ground for blaming the tail Yankee for making the move, but on the other hand, all are anxious to congratulate him on his success and wish him the best of luck in old Indiana.

Granite State Park, for the past 12 years Cox's training place, is on the Cox company, a corporation with Cox market. It is the property of W. H. and several partners in the stockholders. Gossip had it the latter part of last week that the Iowa trainer, Ed Allen, who visited Dover just after the close of the grand circuit, was planning to move there, but that is considered very unlikely.

Takes Along Old Employees

Cox will take several of his old employees along with him to Indiana. Years still will be with him. Burrill leaves next week for Laurel Hill and the other boys will follow later.

At least 35 head of horses now at Granite State Park will be consigned to the Old Glory Sale, to be held in Madison Square Garden the latter part of this month. Lu Pringleton, 501, Mabel Trask, 2014, and others will be in reserve, of course, and the stallion is destined to do duty at one of the leading stock farms.

Many friends and patrons spent yesterday with the champion trainer, and from now until the time comes for him to leave for Indiana, which probably will be some time in December, his legion of friends who have been accustomed to while away a few days at intervals during the winter and spring seasons will make one more visit to hospitable Granite State Park to wish their friend the best of luck at Laurel Hill.

LOWELL BOWLERS STAGE MANY CONTESTS

Lowell bowlers were active about the city last evening and several red hot contests drew their quota of fans to the local alleys. The Matthews, Chan Grant, Waterhead mills, and Barren church leagues staged some zealous clashes, and the Mysteries, Mohawks, Fairviews and Salem A.C. fives were also in action. The scores:

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable. 50c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

LOWELL BOYS WIN AT FITCHBURG

Three Lowell boys appeared in an all star boxing show at Fitchburg yesterday afternoon. Frank Molins won from Tip Murphy in the final number which went eight rounds. Molins led all the way. Tommy Fall and Young Nee met in another eight round number which went the limit to a decision for Fall. Tip Quinn did not fare as well as the other Lowellites for he was defeated by Sergt. Swanson in two rounds.

HORGAN A HERO

Butler School Kicker Alone Defeats Edison Team

Prior to the Lowell high-Vocational school game at Spalding park yesterday morning, the crack teams of the Edison and Butler grammar schools met in a battle royal, which ended in a victory for the Butler lads, 3 to 0. The good right toe of Halibak Horgan lifted a drop kick over the cross bar from the 20-yard line late in the second period for the only score of the game. For the most part the contest was a draw and took with but little to choose between the respective merits of the two eleven.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—An under current of nervousness pervaded the stock market at the opening of today's session. Pessimism, based on the credit situation, caused initial losses of one to four points in steels, equipments, oils and motors. This was partly balanced by gains of one to almost six points in shipbuilding, pressed steel and several other issues which stood their ground during yesterday's drastic liquidation. Signs of support were shown by representative shares, notably high grade rails and U. S. Steel. Some early losses were fully recovered within the first half hour.

Failures of the first half hour were lost on fresh selling of speculative issues which forced many stocks under yesterday's final prices. Commission houses reported extensive liquidation from futures centers. General Motors was again the central feature, extending yesterday's severe loss by 2 1/2 points to 22, from which it rallied to 19. Other motors, also, oils, equipments and specialties were down to 12 points lower. Marked strength was shown by metals, especially American Smelting, and the steady accumulation of U. S. Steel was a factor in the general rebound. At noon, call money opened at 14 per cent, duplicating the year's maximum initial rate.

Call money rose to 20 per cent at mid-day following precipitating liquidation. Ralls became heavy under the increased weight of offerings. General Motors continued to weaken, dropping an additional 16 points with concurrent decline in related issues, such as steels and equipments.

The market crumbled in the last hour when call money made another advance to 20 per cent, the highest rate in almost 12 years. Losses of 10 to 25 points were numerous. General Motors extended its decline to 65 points. The closing was weak.

CENSURING SUNDAY PICTURES

The Theatrical Managers' association met at city hall at 1.30 this afternoon to discuss the question of censorship of local moving picture shows on Sundays.

Mr. Harris, who is now president of the Lowell Fish and Game association and who served from 1875 to 1883 as inspector in the Lowell department; in addition to other police service throughout the state from 1871 until 1911, gathered the greater part of his moments while a member of the local force.

And a most interesting collection it is. One sees the "rattler" formerly used by Lowell's "finest" to call for assistance, which has been supplanted by the more efficient and up-to-date whistle, and also the combination of club and hook which was in vogue before the "billy" of the present day.

Dirks and daggers of all description are there. "Knuckles" of all kinds both brass and steel, large and small. Skeleton keys, jagged razors, revolvers and pistols of small and large calibre, photos of famous criminals, all are to be found in the walnut case.

Needless to say, Supt. Welch is most pleased with the gift, and if you are a friend of his, maybe he'll let you look it over some time. It surely is well worth inspection.

COMING TO ST. COLUMBA'S CHURCH

Rev. James M. Somers has been assigned to St. Columba's church, this city, as curate to succeed Rev. Francis McNeil, who has been transferred to Bridgewater. Rev. Fr. Somers comes to Lowell from St. Clement's church, West Somerville. He has been ordained about three years and his home is in Haverhill. Rev. Fr. Somers will take up his new duties as assistant to Rev. Patrick J. Hally, pastor of St. Columba's immediately.

A disabled auto truck at Bridge and First streets delayed the early Lowell-Lawrence cars fully half an hour this morning. The wrecking crew of the street car company finally removed the machine and opened the traffic lanes.

MARTIAL LAW IN NO. DAKOTA

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 12.—Governor Lynn J. Frasier, early today declared martial law in the coal mining districts of North Dakota and announced he would take over the lignite coal mines of the state which have been closed for several days on account of a strike of the 1500 miners.

BILLERICA POST

American Legion Holds Armistice Day Celebration

BillERICA Post 16, American Legion, celebrated the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice with a Grand Victory ball held last evening in the town hall in BillERICA. It was the first public social event conducted by the service men of the town and proved a grand success as well as an appropriate program for the closing of a year of peace.

The affair was attended by over 200 couples including many service men who one year ago were serving in foreign countries or in camps nearer home. Patriotic organizations of the town also co-operated toward the success of the legion's initial entertainment and aided in making it one long to be remembered by all present.

The hall was handsomely decorated. American and allied flags were conspicuous, while streamers of red, white and blue bunting were extended from the center to all sides of the hall. The town service flag containing 247 stars was also used. Mrs. Frederic S. Clark, Mrs. George Greenwood and Mrs. Thomas Callahan, who represented war work organizations, served as matrons.

From 8 to 9.30 a musical concert was given by Broderick's orchestra, which also played for a program of 16 numbers. The quality of the music was evident by the encores given the various numbers. Barney Horan, a well known local entertainer, assisted the orchestra by singing some of the latest song hits which were very favorably received.

Promptly at 5.30 the grand march started led by Thomas F. Sheridan, chairman of the board of selectmen, and Mrs. Sheridan. They were followed by Selectman Thomas T. Clark and Mrs. Clark and Selectman Laurence Greenwood and Miss Mildred Barber, officers of the legion and many other couples. The march proved one of the features of the event and brought rounds of applause from the spectators who filled the balcony. Many of the service men were uniforms, giving the affair a military appearance. Following the march, Mr. Horan sang "I Know What It Is to Be Lonesome" as the opening number of what proved to be a most enjoyable dance program. Shortly before intermission Miss Velma Mansfield of Burlington, Mass., a member and was given a fine reception.

From 9 to 11, refreshments were served in the lower hall under the direction of 10 ladies of the BillERICA Red Cross headed by Mrs. John E. Richardson, Mrs. Charles E. Williams and Mrs. Chesley Nickerson. The ladies worked diligently and provided a dainty luncheon which was thoroughly appreciated and much credit is due them for the handling of this part of the program.

The committee in charge consisted of: Newell A. Ritchie, W. Harold Manning, William J. A. Lyons, Warren E. Metcalf, Charles A. Rickett, assisted by all members of the legion. The officers of the legion are: Commander, Thomas C. Nickerson; vice commander, John Bostwick; adjutant, J. Dana Richardson; finance officer, Albert S. Dull; historian, A. Warren Stearns.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Chapter Still Climbing—Workers Are Jubilant

The Red Cross roll call total for North Middlesex chapter already has rolled up to 27,000 and will climb several hundred more before the final returns are in. At the closing meeting of the drive at St. Anne's parish house Monday evening a total membership of 25,450 was reported, but this did not include the towns of Carlisle, Lincoln and Stoneham. The last named community has sent in a report of better than 1500 names, which makes the chapter total approximately 27,000. Additional memberships in small lots continue to come in at chapter headquarters in Merrimack st. and it may be several days before all the money which may be traced directly to the canvass of workers is received.

North Middlesex chapter had a wartime organization of 47,000 members and at the outset of the roll call just completed, national headquarters in assigning Lowell's quota, felt that a result which would total 50 per cent of the former strength would be most gratifying. Not only has the chapter obtained one-half of its former membership but at present is just a fraction below 55 per cent of its wartime enrollment. Local officers call it "a splendid accomplishment" and far greater than their most optimistic hopes would allow them to anticipate.

Boiled down to facts, the roll call workers rallied to the cause wonderfully well and the people of Lowell and the district towns again stepped forward and supported a worthy cause. Much of the credit for the success of the drive here is due to Paul B. Chandler, chairman of the campaign committee, who worked tirelessly for a big total and had the fine satisfaction of seeing his efforts rewarded. He had real workers gathered around him, divided into canvassing teams and the result shows that there was no shrinking and no lack of response from the generous public.

As in past drives the industrial plants strongly rallied to the call and many 100 per cent records were made. Stores and bodies of employees, such as the police and firemen, also enlisted in full strength. The Merrimack Mfg. Co. led the mills with 1225 members. The Day State Cotton corporation made a gift of $1000 and in addition to memberships turned in E. S. Hyman contributed $25. Many more special gifts were made during the campaign.

The chapter workers do not want it understood that membership in the Red Cross for 1920 is restricted to the days of the roll call. The headquarters at 81 Merrimack street are open daily for any service which may be rendered and also for the receipt of new membership organization cards. The quota is too large or unwieldy and there is no limit to the enrollment.

Simon B. Harris Presents

Criminal's Kit to the Police Department

A fragment of the skull of a man murdered nearly a decade ago; wicked looking daggers, sharp and business-like in appearance; revolvers of many varied sizes and types—these and many other strange and weird tools best known to the underworld make up the contents of a walnut case of relics which has been presented to the Lowell police department, by Simon B. Harris, whose years of service in the police department of city and state number 46.

Mr. Harris, who is now president of the Lowell Fish and Game association and who served from 1875 to 1883 as inspector in the Lowell department; in addition to other police service throughout the state from 1871 until 1911, gathered the greater part of his moments while a member of the local force.

INTERNAL PAINS DISAPPEARED

MRS. F. CAMIRE

I owe my good health to RED PILLS for pale and weak women. I was suffering from internal disturbances which were brought on by hard work in factories when I was too young to be working at all, and to the little care I had been able to get. I had become excessively weak. I had been in bed for two months, and was suffering a great deal. People who saw me at that time are now astonished to see me so well, for everyone had considered my case to be hopeless.

NATURALIZATION CLASS

Lowell men who are interested in the subject of naturalization will have an opportunity to have questions regarding this topic answered this evening when there will be one of a series of naturalization classes at the Green school at 7.30 o'clock. These classes are being conducted under the direction of Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools and either he or one of the grammar school masters is present at every session. The meetings are held every Wednesday evening and afford those who attend them an opportunity to get instruction in citizenship and become acquainted with the laws pertaining to naturalization.

CHURCH WELCOMES HER SERVICE MEN

WILD RUNAWAY THIS FORENOON

A bay horse hitched to a delivery wagon and driven by Thomas Danahy, ran away in Shattuck street this forenoon and raised ructions in Market street. The wagon collided with an automobile truck at the junction of Market and Suffolk streets, but fortunately no one was injured and no damage was caused.

The horse became frightened while standing in Shattuck street shortly after 10 o'clock and started at breakneck speed through Market. At the corner of Dutton street two or three men attempted to catch the animal, but their efforts were fruitless. The horse continued its wild race through the street, dodging vehicles of all sorts and when the corner of Suffolk street was reached, the wagon collided with an automobile truck owned by Jesse Trull of Tewksbury. The horse was thrown to the pavement and it was then that a couple of men jumped on its head and managed to quiet the animal.

$250 BONUS FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

As the result of an agreement drawn by Richard Bratbrook Walsh, chairman of the school committee, and officials of the state board of education, now awaiting the formal approval of the state board as a whole, all teachers in the Bartlett and Lexington avenue schools which are used by the state as practice schools, will receive a bonus of $250 a year. The principals of these schools will receive a bonus of $500 per year. The bonus of $250 also applies to the kindergarten teachers. If this agreement is approved by the state board, the teachers in these schools will receive more money than those of the other elementary schools of the city. The agreement referred to also provides for the doing away of the New Moody school as a state training school.

WALSH REPELS ATTACK

Mass. Senator Bitterly Assailed by Senator Williams on League of Nations

(Special to The Sun.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The most exciting incident of the debate on the treaty occurred when Senator Williams of Mississippi renewed his attack on reservations tending to give aid to Ireland and made a bitter personal attack on Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, denouncing his attitude in such offensive words that the chair called him to order. Williams shouted angrily shaking his fist in Walsh's face, his shrill quivering voice piercing the chamber. When Williams took his seat Walsh rose and thundered a denunciation of Williams' attack as unjust and unwarranted, made an eloquent argument against the United States taking any step that would hold small nations in subjection and revealed the fact that he had been informed that he would be "punished" on account of his failure to stand by the administration senators on the league. "I know that already plans are being prepared to take from me every particle of political patronage in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, but I am prepared for abuse," said Senator Walsh, adding that he is a believer in the League of Nations, but holding that subject nations should have the strength of appeal and a chance for freedom which the covenant does not provide.

The tilt came about when the question of subject nations was under discussion and Senator Walsh of Massachusetts said:
"I am the offspring of a subject nation" and added that his father and mother were Irish immigrants. Whereupon Senator Williams charged Walsh with being "un-American," adding that if the people of this country followed Walsh's ideas and gave heed to their ancestry the United States would be "a miserable melting pot with its elements unmetted of whom the senator from Massachusetts is one by his own assertion." At this point, Williams was warned by the presiding officer. The Williams-Walsh tilt caused a sensation coming as it did from two prominent democrats.
Senator Walsh paid eloquent tribute to the Irish who responded so loyally to the call for troops and paid tribute to the president, although he differed from him on the league. His speech was impassioned and eloquent. He gave reasons for his stand on the League of Nations and said he could not see how any red-blooded American could take any other.
Senator Lodge followed Walsh, vouching for the Americanism of his colleague and complimenting him upon his able defense in reply to the attack made upon him.

VALUABLE DOG KILLED

A valuable bull dog owned by Mary Quinn of the John P. Quinn company, was struck by an automobile in Gorham street near the Lowell-Chelmsford line this morning and died shortly afterward. The operator of the machine, which bore a New Hampshire registration number did not stop to ascertain the injuries of the dog, so it was claimed, but was later apprehended at Tower's corner by Mr. Quinn, who gave chase in his automobile and he was turned over to Patrolman Linane, who escorted him to the police station. In the meantime C. Fred Gilmore of the Humano society was called to give whatever assistance he could to the injured dog, but his services were of no avail, for shortly after his arrival on the scene of the accident the dog died as a result of a broken neck and a broken back.

For ALDERMAN

JOHN F. SALMON

"I am a candidate for alderman. I was born in Lowell and have lived here all my life. At the age of 14 I entered the employ of a reliable business house of Lowell, in the capacity of bundle boy—I advanced, step by step, until I became manager of this concern, which position I held when I went overseas attached to the American Expeditionary Forces. I have never held or sought political office before. Such is my record.

MY PLATFORM:

"In 1911, at the advent of the new charter, our tax rate was $18.90. Today it is $26.00, the highest in the history of our city. Yet we are asked to support for alderman, practically the same men who have been in control and who, therefore, are directly responsible for this condition. I charge no misfeasance—I charge no wrong-doing; but I do submit that HEALTHY ROTATION in office should be tried—that we should have new blood in our city council—that young men, with sufficient business training and a reputation for honesty and integrity, should be given the opportunity to demonstrate their personal fitness for public office. Such is my platform.

"I respectfully ask your support,
JOHN F. SALMON,

Public Sale of the Attractive Modern Residence

Situated in the Highlands at 55 Victoria Street

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 15,—3 P. M.

On the premises on the day and hour above mentioned will be offered at public sale this exceptionally desirable residential property. The location is one of the best in the entire city, being strictly residential and easily accessible to both the Highlands and Chelmsford street car lines. The surrounding residences are comparatively new and of the highest class. The lot is large and open, being somewhat in excess of 5,000 square feet. The house is full two and one-half story and is in "Queen Anne" style. The rooms are, eight in number. On the first floor is an exceptionally pleasant kitchen, dining room, living room and front room, as well as a handsome reception hall. There are four comfortable chambers and bath on the second floor and an attic space over all. The house is equipped with furnace heat, soap stone set wash trays and hot water. The plumbing throughout is open and of the most modern type. The floors are of polished hard wood in part. The general construction is of the highest order.

Herein is presented a most unusual opportunity, as there are no residences of this character available for purchase in the entire city and not for some years past has there been one offered at public sale.

TERMS: $100 to be deposited with or secured to the auctioneer as soon as property is struck off. Other terms at sale.

AUCTION SALE

Saturday, Nov. 15, 1919, at 2.30 P. M.

I shall sell at public auction to the highest bidder two lots of land situated on the westerly side of State Street, containing about 5500 feet each, 11,000 square feet in both lots. The lots are high and dry, have city water, gas and sewer in the street. State Street is the first street off Moore Street from Lawrence Street, in the Sacred Heart Parish, near churches, schools, and many mills and work shops. Come prepared to buy as I am going to sell to the highest bidder.
Terms of sale: $50.00 deposit on each lot as soon as sold. Other terms at sale.
Per order, C. W. PARSONS.
